GENERAL INFORMATION

Historical Information

Morris Brown College is a private, coeducational, four-year, degree-granting institution consisting of a faculty and staff of fewer than 50 and a student body of less than 100 students from throughout the nation. The College’s history is contained in Morris Brown College: The First Hundred Years by George A. Sewell and Cornelius V. Troup.

The College was founded in 1881 by the African Methodist Episcopal (A.M.E.) Church “for the Christian education of Negro boys and girls in Atlanta.” This statement was appropriate at the time because of the limited educational opportunities for newly emancipated African Americans.

A site was selected, and construction began the next year at Boulevard and Houston Streets in northeast Atlanta. On October 15, 1885, under the charter granted by the state of Georgia, Morris Brown College opened with two teachers and 107 students.

Until 1894, the school operated on the primary, secondary, and normal school levels. Tailoring, dressmaking, nursing education, home economics, printing, and commerce were offered, as well as other academic programs. Nursing education was housed separately in the George B. Dwelles Infirmary.

The College Department was established in 1894 and graduated its first class in 1898. A Theological Department of the College was established in 1894 for the training of ministers. Six years later, its name was changed to Turner Theological Seminary in honor of the Senior Bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1960, the Turner Theological Seminary was separated from the College and became a member of the Interdenominational Theological Center (ITC).

A 1913 charter amendment expanded the operational parameters of Morris Brown College to a status of University with the right and responsibility for the establishment and operation of “branch institutions of learning.” Branches were successfully established and operated in Cuthbert, Georgia and Savannah, Georgia through 1929 when in the best interest of strengthening its core mission, the University discontinued the operation of its branches and legally restored its name, Morris Brown College.

The Charter of Incorporation in 1913 for Morris Brown College provided that the Executive Board of Trustees should have the authority to select officers, teachers, and all other employees that the corporation deemed necessary for the institution’s advancement, expansion, and development. Today, the Board of Trustees maintains its role of governance of Morris Brown College. This role encompasses the responsibility to set policy; generate sufficient funds to deliver and maintain a state of fiscal institutional solvency; provide oversight of the administration of the College through its responsibility for the election of a College President who serves as the Chief Administrator of the College.

The Board, sanctioned by institutional by-laws, is designed to establish and maintain an administrative organization that will bring together and augment the various resources of the institution so that it can achieve its purpose.
Faith Statement

College Seal and Motto: To God and Truth

Faith Statement: Morris Brown College hereby affirms its historical affiliation with the African Methodist Episcopal Church (AME). In fulfillment of its mission as an institution of higher education, Steeped in the foundational beliefs of The AME Church; Morris Brown College is committed to the motto of “God Our Father, Christ Our Redeemer, the Holy Spirit Our Comforter, Humankind Our Family.”

The Apostle’s Creed

I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ his only son our Lord who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead; and buried. The third day he arose from the dead; he ascended into heaven and sits at the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Church Universal, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting.

Foundational Beliefs

The Trinity: There is but one living and true God, everlasting, without body or parts, of infinite power, wisdom, and goodness; the Maker and Preserver of all things, both visible and invisible. And in unity of this God-head, there are three persons of one substance, power and eternity - the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost. (Article I).

Deity and Humanity of Christ: The Son, who is the Word of the Father, the very and eternal God, one substance with the Father, took man’s nature in the womb of the blessed virgin; so that two whole and perfect natures, that is to say, the God-head and manhood, were joined together in one person, never to be divided, whereof is one Christ, very God and man, who suffered, was crucified, dead and buried, to reconcile his Father to us, and to be a sacrifice, not only for original guilt, but also for actual sins of men. (Article II).

The Bible: The Holy Scriptures containeth all things necessary for salvation; so that whatever is not read therein, nor may be proved thereby, is not to be required of any man, that it should be believed as an article of faith, or be thought requisite or necessary to salvation. In the name of the Holy Scriptures, we do understand those canonical books of the Old and New Testament, of whose authority was never any doubt in the Church (Article V).

Creation: (Genesis 1:1) “In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth, and the sea, and all that in them there is; wherefore, the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it.
Redemption: Not every sin willingly committed after justification is the sin against the Holy Ghost, and unpardonable. Wherefore, the grant of repentance is not to be denied to such as fall into sin after justification. After we have received the Holy Ghost, we may depart from grace given, and fall into sin, and, by the grace of God, rise again, and amend our lives. And therefore, they are to be condemned who say they can do no more sin as long as they live here; or deny the place of forgiveness to such as truly repent. (Article XII)

Salvation: We are accounted righteous before God only for the merit of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, by faith, and not by our own works or deserving; wherefore, that we are justified by faith only, is a most wholesome doctrine, and very full of comfort. (Article IX)

Free Will: The condition of man after the fall of Adam is such that he cannot turn and prepare himself by his own natural strength and works to faith, and calling upon God; wherefore, we have no power to do good works, pleasant and acceptable to God, without the grace of God; by Christ presenting us, that we may have a good will, and working with us, when we have that good will.

Mission Statement

Morris Brown College was founded on Christian principles in 1881 by the African Methodist Episcopal Church and is chartered by the State of Georgia as a private, coeducational, liberal arts college engaged in teaching, research, and public service in the arts, humanities, social and natural sciences and professional programs.

The mission of Morris Brown College is to provide educational opportunities in a positive and nurturing environment that will enable its students to become fully functional persons in our global society. The College prepares graduates to live meaningful and rewarding lives, thereby enabling them to make socially constructive and culturally relevant contributions to society.

Morris Brown College, in its commitment to academic excellence, provides experiences that foster and enhance intellectual, personal, and interpersonal development for students who have demonstrated the potential to compete in a challenging undergraduate liberal arts program of study.

Approval and Accreditation

Morris Brown College has been approved as an institute of higher learning by the Georgia Nonpublic Postsecondary Education Commission (GNPEC), which authorizes and regulates the operations of in-state nonpublic and out-of-state postsecondary colleges and schools operating or offering instruction in Georgia.

Morris Brown’s goal is to become a candidate for accreditation by October 2020. If selected as a candidate school, the institution will be eligible to apply for Title IV Funding (Federal Financial Aid) for students. Transnational Association of Christian Colleges and Schools (TRACS) is recognized by the United States Department of Education (ED), the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA), and International Network for Quality Assurance Agencies in Higher Education (INQAAHE) as an accrediting agency for Christian postsecondary institutions that offer certificates, diplomas, associate, baccalaureate, and graduate degrees, including distance education. Because the United States Department of Education holds all accrediting agencies to the same standards, as of July 1, 2020, it will no longer have a distinction between regional and national accrediting agencies- both regional and national agencies will be known as institutional accrediting agencies.

Purpose

Because the most universal criterion by which Morris Brown College and any other institution may be measured is the achievement of its alumni, the College seeks to provide its students with:

- An environment that will foster the development of a wholesome attitude toward, and a full appreciation for, the cultural heritage of the human race as epitomized in the major intellectual and/or cultural disciplines;
- Knowledge that represents a comprehensive understanding of the fundamentals of the intellectual and cultural disciplines embodied in the Liberal Arts tradition of the General Education Program;
- Experiences that will promote an awareness of, and sensitivity to, the societal structures and processes which persistently provoke the climate and substance of social change;
- An understanding of, and respect for, the ethical, moral and spiritual values of the Christian Faith;
• A set of skills that will equip them to negotiate effectively the cultural, economic, global, political, and social environments;

• Preparation in the scholarly tradition that will support graduate and professional studies;

• Training that prepares them for active participation as intellectually competent, proficient individuals in a scientific and technologically advanced society;

• Opportunities to contribute to research, artistic and other intellectual endeavors; and

• Opportunities for public service and experiential training to enrich the lives of citizens in local, state, national and international communities.

Name

The institution was named Morris Brown College in honor of Bishop Morris Brown, the second consecrated Bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. This name is consistent with the many other liberal arts colleges that are named after individuals.

Documentation:

The college website indicates naming of the college and its founding as a child of the church, which not only determined the institution’s philosophical thrust, but also created a system of support which functioned to channel its early energies toward developing programs to serve the needs of students from low socioeconomic backgrounds.

Institutional Integrity

Philosophy of Education

Morris Brown College operates with integrity and is represented accurately and honestly to students, the public, and our accrediting agencies. The institution is a historically African American Christian institution, affiliated with the African Methodist Episcopal Church (AME); which is committed to preparing our students to be productive and successful citizens in a globally diverse society. In keeping with the mission of the AME Church, Morris Brown is committed to preparing its students to be leaders embodying the principles of personal and social responsibility.

Morris Brown College believes that an academically transformational environment provides an opportunity for students of varying abilities to actualize their spiritual, academic and vocational potential. By placing students in nurturing academic and diverse cultural environments that focus on acceptance and appreciation of similarities and differences of all people; the students are able to participate actively as intellectually competent, culturally sensitive, and socially conscious individuals upon graduation.

Administrators, faculty, and staff are committed to providing an academically challenging yet supportive environment based on theories and practices that support a deepening understanding of our relationship with God, self, and humankind. The learning environment at Morris Brown College provides an opportunity for students to develop self-reflective and self-regulative skills that can aid them in actualizing their greatest potential. The institution makes spiritually and socially conscious decisions regarding the development of its curricula, research and service programs which are rooted in theory and research-based practices.

Ethical Values and Standards Statement

The Morris Brown College Faculty, Staff, Students, Administration, and Board of Trustees are committed to Ethical Values and Standards.

The College embraces and adheres to its mission, the Faith Statement, and the Integrity Statement. We seek to embrace and respect the beliefs, cultures, differences, and rights of each other in the College environment. We seek to understand, appreciate, and respect other cultures in the global society. We seek to create an atmosphere of accountability that operates in honesty, openness, and trust in the pursuit of academic excellence. We seek to act, listen, and speak in a manner that respects the opinions and points of view of others. We seek to create and maintain an environment that perpetuates cooperation, inquiry, and mutual understanding. We accept full responsibility for the impact of our actions regarding our community, environment, and the world. Institutionally, we are accountable for our behaviors, and our ethical use of resources, in respect of our students as the core of our being.

In demonstrating commitment to these ethical standards and values, we will:

- make decisions that are consistent with the spirit of the College’s mission, Faith Statement, and the Philosophy of Education;

Location

Morris Brown College is located in Atlanta, Georgia, often called "the fastest growing international city in the nation." With a population of over three million, metropolitan Atlanta provides college students with abundant advantages that enhance the college experience: access to rich educational resources; diverse social, cultural, and recreational opportunities; and many exciting career fields.

The Dr. Gloria L. Anderson Multi-Purpose Complex

Previously known as the Administration Building, this structure was originally constructed in 1905. Following a fire, the building was rebuilt between 1992 and 1995. There are 25,000 square feet of space. This structure contains three levels. The basement is used primarily for storage. The Registrar, Financial Aid, Office of Academic Affairs and the Music department are located on the first floor. The President's office, Institutional Advancement, the Finance office and classroom space are located on the second floor. The building was formally renamed and dedicated to Morris Brown veteran educator, Dr. Gloria L. Anderson in 2020.

Charter

Morris Brown College received its registration in 1906 from the State of Georgia and has been authorized to offer the baccalaureate degree since that time.

Policy on Non-Discrimination

Morris Brown College subscribes to all state and federal regulations prohibiting discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, age, physical handicap, and national or ethnic origin. The non-discrimination policy of Morris Brown College complies with all current statutes and applies to admissions, employment, and access to all programs, services, and activities of the institution.

Security Services Policy

Morris Brown College maintains 24-hour security services that protect the personal welfare of its students, faculty, and staff, as well as all College property. The College disavows _and disclaims any and all liability or responsibility for property damage or loss due to theft or vandalism and for bodily injury suffered by its students, faculty, and staff as a result of wrongful or negligent acts committed by persons who are not employees or agents of the College._

The College also similarly disavows and disclaims any and all liability or responsibility for property damage and bodily injury suffered by its students, faculty, and staff by virtue of any act of God, riot, or the criminal activity of any person or persons, whether or not they are College employees or agents. The foregoing should not be construed, however, as the elimination or diminution of any rights of any College employee under the Georgia Workers’ Compensation Statute.
Office of Alumni Affairs

The Office of Alumni Affairs serves as the primary liaison between the College and its alumni constituency. Its function is to develop and maintain a network of support to the College. The Office of Alumni Affairs plans and implements a comprehensive alumni relations program, including: (a) supporting reunion classes; (b) overseeing the development and maintenance of all alumni records; (c) assisting with the development and implementation of fund-raising strategies; and (d) providing technical support to the National Alumni Association. The Morris Brown College National Alumni Association structure consists of eight regions, 39 chapters throughout the United States and two foreign nations, reunion classes, and eight other support groups.

The Office of Alumni Affairs networks with the National Alumni Association to support the College's efforts with recruitment and retention of students and the development of alumni through sponsorship of pre-alumni activities. Annually, local chapters host current and new student activities, participate in college recruitment fairs, and provide scholarships.

The Atlanta Metropolitan State College Library

By cooperative arrangement, Morris Brown College students, faculty, and staff have full access to the Atlanta Metropolitan State College Library. Located 3.3 miles from campus and on a major MARTA bus line, this Library is a modern facility designed to serve the instructional, informational, and research needs of a 2500-student undergraduate institution in the University of Georgia system. The Atlanta Metropolitan State College Library is regionally accredited.

The Library is open Mondays through Thursdays from 8:00 am to 10:00 pm, Fridays from 8:00 am to 6:00 pm, Saturdays from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm, and Sundays from 2:00 pm to 6:00 pm. Morris Brown College students, faculty, and staff have full check-out privileges, using their Morris Brown College ID cards.

The Atlanta Metropolitan State College Library collection includes 50,614 volumes, 87 periodical (magazine) subscriptions, and 426 audiovisual items. The Library offers an extensive variety of other sources and databases through the University System of Georgia digital library, known as GALILEO. Morris Brown College students, faculty, and staff can access GALILEO while present in the Atlanta Metropolitan State College Library, or at any public library in the Atlanta area. In the Atlanta Metropolitan State College Library, users have access to an extensive variety of periodicals, through electronic access to databases such as EBSCO, ProQuest, and JSTOR. The Library offers individual and small-group instruction on use of the Library's resources, as well as professional assistance in conducting library research. All of these resources are available to Morris Brown College students, faculty, and staff.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA)

Under the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), Morris Brown College has established policies concerning the confidentiality of student educational records. In accordance with FERPA, students have the right to:

1. inspect and review information contained in their education records;
2. challenge the contents of their educational records;

3. request a hearing if the outcome of the challenge is unsatisfactory to the student;

4. submit an explanatory statement for inclusion in the record if the outcome of the hearing is unsatisfactory to the student;

5. prevent disclosure, with certain exceptions, of the contents of their records;

6. secure a copy of the institution's policy that includes the location of all education records; and

7. file complaints with the U.S. Office of Education.

The following information may be disclosed unless a student specifically requests in writing that it not be released: student enrollment status, dates of enrollment, degree earned, major, honors, and awards. Requests must be submitted in writing to the Office of the Registrar by October 1 annually. Additionally, the College will comply with applicable federal and state laws and with court orders that require the release of information under legal compulsion or in cases in which the physical well-being or safety of persons or property is involved.

FERPA regulations also require that the College inform students on an annual basis of the method it will use to inform them of their FERPA rights. The College's policy is distributed via the College Catalog and other publications available to students and families.

Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Sex (Title IX)
Education Amendment of 1972

Morris Brown College will notify all parties—applicants for admission and employment, students, and employees—that the College does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its admissions or employment policies or its educational programs and activities.

Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Handicap Rehabilitation Act of 1973

Morris Brown College will notify all parties—applicants for admission and employment, students, and employees—that the College does not discriminate on the basis of handicap in its admissions or employment policies or its educational programs and activities. Information is available about the existence and location of services, activities, and facilities that are accessible to, and usable by, handicapped persons.

ADMISSIONS

Morris Brown College admits students on the basis of individual merit and without regard to race, color, national origin, creed, gender, or physical disability.

Applying for Admission

Students interested in applying for admissions may complete the application on the MBC website: www.morrisbrown.edu

Admission applications may also be obtained from high school and junior/community college counselors or by writing to the

Morris Brown College
643 Martin Luther King Jr. Drive, NW
Atlanta, GA 30314

All applicants will be notified, in writing, of the College's admission decision. Individuals who wish to visit the campus or to speak to an admissions officer may call (404) 458-6085 extension 2011 for an appointment or come to the Office of Admissions.

Deadlines. Completed applications must be returned to the Office of Admissions by May 1 for fall semester admission or by December 1 for spring semester admission.

Accuracy of Information. An applicant who knowingly withholds information or gives false information on an application may become ineligible for admission or readmission to the College or may be subject to disciplinary action.

Admissions Tests. All applicants for admission to Morris Brown College who have graduated from high school or successfully completed the GED are required to take the SAT or ACT. Likewise, transfer applicants with less than 30 semester credit hours or 45 quarter credit hours must submit SAT or ACT scores.

Requirements for Admission

Admission to Morris Brown College is based on a decision scale that considers a combination of high school grade point average and SAT/ACT scores. Additionally, students must show at least fifteen (15) Carnegie units* successfully completed on their high school transcript. At least twelve of the 15 Carnegie units should be in the following academic subjects: English, mathematics, natural sciences, and the social sciences.

*Carnegie units represent the completion of a core of high school courses. Carnegie units are used to set national norms for curriculum and course time and are named after the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching which first used the system.
New Student Applicants

Prospective high school graduates may be considered for admission any time after their sixth semester in high school.

High school graduates must submit the following:

1. A completed and signed admission application;
2. An official high school transcript signed and bearing the official school seal, applicant’s class rank, class size, date of graduation, and SAT or ACT scores;
3. Official SAT or ACT scores;
4. Two (2) letters of recommendation from appropriate high school officials;
5. An autobiography or essay (100-300 words)

GED applicants must submit the following:

1. A completed and signed admissions application;
2. Official GED test results;
3. Official SAT or ACT scores;
4. Two (2) letters of recommendation;
5. An autobiography or essay (100-300 words)

Transfer Student Applicants

Transfer applicants must submit the following:

1. A completed and signed admission application;
2. An official transcript from each college attended;
3. An official high school transcript with date of graduation, or a GED score report, and official SAT or ACT scores (if less than 30 semester credit hours or 45 quarter credit hours of college level coursework);
4. Financial Aid transcripts from all previously attended colleges and universities (forwarded to the Morris Brown College Office of Financial Aid);
5. One letter of recommendation;
6. An autobiography or essay (100-300 words)
Adult Education Program Applicants

Adults who are 23 years of age or older who have completed 45 semester credit hours in General Education from a postsecondary educational institution may seek admission to the Organizational Management and Leadership (OML) Program. All Adults will enroll in the Prior Learning Assessment course at the beginning of their course of study in the OML Program. The College will charge tuition fees to students who receive credit for Prior Learning Assessment courses derived from their portfolios or from their Challenge or Comprehensive Examinations courses in Music and General Education. The amount of these tuition fees will be determined at a later date. Adults who have earned less than 45 semester credit hours will be required to enroll in the General Education Program; they may enroll in Prior Learning Assessment; and they may enroll in Pre-Organizational Management and Leadership courses, depending on the number of General Education courses that are required. OML Program applicants must submit the following:

1. A completed and signed admissions application
2. Two letters of recommendation from a professional administrator, an academic administrator, and/or a religious leader
3. Verification of age

Transient Student Applicants

Students who are enrolled in another institution may seek transient (temporary) admission to Morris Brown College. Transient applicants must submit the following:

1. A completed and signed admissions application
2. An approval letter from the student’s home institution

Non-Degree Applicants

Individuals wishing to take courses but not to obtain a degree may seek non-degree admission to Morris Brown College. Non-degree applicants must submit the following:

1. A completed and signed admission application;
2. Official transcripts from each college attended; and

Students on Disciplinary Suspension Who Seek Readmission

Students who have been suspended for disciplinary violations for at least one academic year, must apply for readmission. Applicants must:

1. Complete a readmission application and submit it to the Vice President for Academic Affairs; and
2. Submit to the Vice President for Academic Affairs a letter of reference from a person familiar with the applicant’s activities during the period of suspension.

Readmission Procedures for Former/Returning Students in Good Standing

Students whose enrollment is disrupted for more than one year may seek readmission to the College. Applicants must:

1. Complete a readmission application and submit it to the Office of the Registrar; and
2. Submit to the Office of the Registrar all transcripts of academic work completed since the time of departure from Morris Brown College.

Conditional Admission

The College may grant conditional admission to an applicant whose SAT/ACT score or grade point average falls outside of the various admission decision scale intervals, but who has the minimum Carnegie units, acceptable letters of recommendation, and the required essay. Conditional admission is considered for applicants who show evidence of a strong motivation for achievement and future academic growth.

Upon admission to the College, all new students are classified as “General Education” students, including students admitted conditionally. Students admitted conditionally are regarded as regular students of the College. Students who remove the conditions for admission may choose a major.

Students who are admitted conditionally

1. Must take the College’s placement test and must take the appropriate basic skills courses if placement test scores fall below the minimum standards on any component of the placement test;
2. Will be limited to registering for 12 credit hours each semester for the first year of matriculation;
3. Will be advised by academic advisors in the General Education Department; and
4. Will have one academic year to achieve a cumulative grade point average of 1.5. If the 1.5 grade point average is not achieved in the first semester, the student will be sent an academic warning letter from the Office of Academic Affairs. If the 1.5 is not achieved by the end of the student’s second semester, the student will be dismissed from the college.

A letter delineating the above conditions will be sent to the student upon acceptance.
OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

ENROLLMENT

For an Accurate Enrollment with Minimal Delays

1. Applicants for admission to the College should see that all required records are in the Office of Admissions by May 1.

2. Financial aid processing should be completed well ahead of the registration period because documents must be fully processed and approved before enrollment can be completed.

3. Completed health forms must be on file in the Morris Brown College Health Services Office before registration will be permitted.

4. Upon arrival at the College, students should have completed all financial aid requirements and should report to the Office of Student Accounts to pay fees.

5. The dates for freshman orientation and registration, and returning students' registration, are specified in the College's academic calendar. Students will be charged for registering or making changes in their registration after the published dates.

6. Course credit is stated in semester hours. One fifty-minute recitation/lecture period per week for eighteen weeks, or the equivalent in laboratory work, constitutes a semester hour. Generally, two hours of laboratory work in science count as an hour of lecture work.

7. An opportunity for pre-registration is provided for students.

8. Students who have been accepted into a major should report to their major departmental offices for academic advisement. New students and General Studies majors should report to the office of Academic Affairs for academic advisement.

9. Students with disabilities should contact the Office of Student Services, if assistance is needed in registering.

10. Students who are on academic probation should report to the Office of Academic Affairs for academic advisement.

11. Students or who are seeking readmission after academic suspension or disciplinary suspension should report to the Office of Academic Affairs and bring all documents required for readmission.

Enrollment Categories

Full-time Students: Students who are enrolled with a minimum of 12 semester hours during a particular semester are regarded as full-time students.

Half-time Students: Students who are enrolled in six to eleven semester hours during a particular semester are regarded as half-time students.
Less Than Half-time Students: Students who are enrolled in one to five semester hours during a particular semester are regarded as less than half-time students.

Transfer Students: Students who have been enrolled in an accredited college or university may be admitted to the College. Transfer credits accepted will not exceed 92 semester hours. Courses with grades below “C” will not be accepted.

Transient Students: Students who have enrolled temporarily in Morris Brown College and who plan to return to their home institution are regarded as transient students. Transient permission must be obtained from the student’s home institution.

Non-Degree Students: Students who are pursuing studies at the College but are not candidates for a degree are regarded as non-degree students.

Schedule Changes (Drop/Add)

Students in need of schedule changes must wait until the drop/add period. Students may make changes in class schedules during the official drop/add period without any permanent record of their having enrolled in the dropped course(s). Students must complete the drop/add form and secure all required signatures. Students who wish to exit a course after the official drop/add period must complete a course withdrawal form, secure all required signatures, and submit the form to the Office of the Registrar.

If students drop courses that result in a course load of less than 12 credit hours, their enrollment status will change from full-time to part-time. If dropping courses results in less than 12 credit hours, students should see their financial aid advisor.

Late Registration

Registration for courses after the time period specified in the College calendar is considered as “late registration.”

Course Loads

Regular/Full-time Course Load: The regular or normal course load for a full-time student is 15 to 18 credit hours. Twelve (12) hours is the minimum course load a student can take to be considered full-time. Students may register for a maximum of 18 hours without being charged for an overload.

Overload: A semester course load of more than 18 credit hours is regarded as an overload. Students must obtain permission from their academic advisor and approved by the department chairperson to register for an overload. Students must have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.00 to be approved for an overload. The maximum number of credit hours a student can register for in an overload status is 24 credit hours. Additional fees will be charged for overload credit hours.

Part-time Course Load: A semester course load of less than 12 credit hours is regarded as a part-time course load.

TUITION, FEES, AND OTHER EXPENSES

The tuition, fees, and other expenses listed in this Catalog represent those that are required of each student who enrolls in Morris Brown College under the stated categories. The costs for books, transportation, and personal expenses are not paid directly to the College and therefore are not listed. However, these costs should be included by the student in estimating the total costs that might be incurred during a school year.

Regulations

1. The academic year is divided into two semesters, fall semester and spring semester. Tuition, fees, and other expenses are charged and payable by the semester since each semester constitutes a separate unit of operation. A student may enroll at the beginning of either semester.

2. Students are responsible for meeting all financial obligations to the College when they are due.

3. All expenses listed in this catalog are for the academic year 2020-21. The College reserves the right to change its fees, charges, rules, and regulations at the beginning of either semester, without previous notice. If the College changes any of these amounts for the academic year 2020-21, it will publish notice of such changes in an addendum to this Catalog.

4. A student is not enrolled officially in the College until all fees and charges have been paid.

5. All first-year students (those attending college for the first time or those transferring from another college or university with fewer than 28 semester hours of transferable credits) are encouraged to live in College-owned or operated housing facilities for one academic year.

6. Students who are enrolled in internships and who are registered for less than 12 semester credit hours, will be classified as full-time students and will be required to pay full tuition, fees, and room and board as applicable.

7. Payment of tuition and fees may be made by check, or money order. The College also accepts VISA, MasterCard, American Express, and Discover in payment of College expenses. Students are encouraged to pay their account balances via Populi.

8. Morris Brown College reserves and exercises the right to deny admission, to cancel the enrollment, to withhold transcripts and other educational records, or to delay graduation of students who fail to meet their financial obligations to the College.
Categories of Expenses, Fees, and Deposits

Tuition

Tuition is defined as the “charges for instruction.” The tuition is $4,250.00 per semester for full time students enrolled in 12-18 semester credit hours. The tuition is $1,062.51 per three semester credit hours or $354.17 per semester credit hour for part-time students who are enrolled in the Bachelorette program with less than 12 semester credit hours. Students taking overloads (over 18 semester credit hours) will be charged $354.17 for each additional semester credit hour over 18.

The tuition is $777.00 per three semester credit hours or $259.00 per semester credit hour for students enrolled in certificate programs.

The College does not provide room and board. The College will assist the student by providing a list of housing opportunities in the areas.

Transcript Fee

A fee of $10.00 is charged for each copy of an official transcript requested after the first copy. A fee of $5.00 is charged for each copy of an unofficial transcript. Only cash and credit cards are accepted for payment. Transcripts will not be released to students with outstanding balances. A fee of $25.00 is charged for each copy of an emergency official transcript.

Graduation Fee

A $150.00 graduation fee will be charged to graduating seniors for cap and gown rental, and other ceremonial activities.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

1. All tuition and fees are due and payable at the time of registration.

2. Students who receive financial aid must pay the difference between the financial aid awards (excluding CWSP) and the total cost of tuition and fees before being permitted to enroll for a given semester.
3. Payment of fees by mail should be made by check or money order made payable to

Refund of Tuition, Fees, and Other Charges

The following regulations apply with respect to refunds and adjustments in charges.

1. All funds, except the $30.00 maximum application fee, are fully refundable if a student withdraws within three days (72 hours) of signing their student contract/enrollment agreement.

2. If a student desires to withdraw officially from the College at any time during the semester, he/she must apply formally to the Registrar and obtain clearance from the offices of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Vice President of Student Affairs, and the Vice President of Fiscal Affairs. Please note: Once a student begins classes, tuition is subject to refunds pro-rated based on the amount of the course attended up to 50%. After 50% of the course has been completed, no refund is required.

3. Students must officially withdraw from the college to be eligible for a pro-rated refund.

Please note: Once a student begins classes, tuition is subject to refunds pro-rated based on the amount of the course attended up to 50%. After 50% of the course has been completed, no refund is required.

Note:

Students are eligible for refunds if official withdrawal is made according to the following schedule for traditional semester students (16 weeks): (a) 2\textsuperscript{nd} week of semester = 87.5%; (b) 4\textsuperscript{th} week of semester = 75%; (c) 6\textsuperscript{th} week of semester = 62.5%; and (d) 8\textsuperscript{th} week of semester = 50%. (e) 9\textsuperscript{th} week and beyond = 0%.

Students are eligible for refunds if official withdrawal is made according to the following schedule for students (8 weeks): (a) 2\textsuperscript{nd} week of semester = 75%; (b) 3\textsuperscript{rd} week of semester = 50%; (c) 4\textsuperscript{th} week and beyond = 0%.

FINANCIAL AID
Satisfactory Academic Progress

To maintain eligibility to be considered for financial aid, students must meet the standards set forth in Morris Brown College’s Financial Aid Policy on Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP). Three components of a student’s records are used to determine if SAP standards are met: credits, grade point average, and time frame. The requirements in each area vary according to a student’s status, such as enrollment status (full-time, half-time, or less than half-time).

The college’s SAP policy includes, but is not limited to, the following aid programs:

- Morris Brown College: All institutional Scholarships and Grants
- Student Loans
- Work-Aid Program

Minimum Credits Earned

Each student’s enrollment status is reviewed at the end of each academic year to verify that required minimum number of credits has been earned during fall and spring semesters. Students are required to earn at least 21 credits each academic year for a full-time status, 12 credits for a half-time status, and six for a less than half-time status.

Minimum Cumulative GPA

Each student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA) will be reviewed at the end of each academic year. Students are required to earn at least a 2.0 cumulative GPA at the end of their second year of attendance (fourth semester of enrollment) and each subsequent academic year. At each review point, students are required to maintain a 2.0 or higher GPA (depending on the program of study).

Maximum Time Frame

A student can be considered for financial aid eligibility for only a limited time. At the end of each academic year, each student’s credits attempted are reviewed to ensure that satisfactory academic progress is occurring at the required rate. Students will be notified when they are within two semesters of reaching the expiration of the allowable time frame. Once the time frame has expired, one’s own funds must be used to continue matriculation in school. No exceptions can be made.

Financial Aid Probation

Students who fail to earn the required GPA and/or the minimum number of credits needed for a particular attendance status will be placed on financial aid probation for the next semester of attendance. Students may still receive financial aid while on financial aid probation. To be removed from financial aid probation, students must achieve the required GPA and/or complete the minimum number of credits that were attempted the semester preceding the probation. If these conditions are met, the financial aid probationary status will be removed at the end of the probationary semester.
Financial Aid Suspension

Students who fail to earn the required credits or to achieve the required GPA while on financial aid probation will be placed on financial aid suspension. Students are no longer eligible to receive aid from any Financial Aid Programs while on financial aid suspension. To resume eligibility to receive financial aid, students must complete--at their own expense--a regular semester at the College in the status from which they were originally suspended (full-time, half-time, or less than half-time) and attain the minimum credits required and/or achieve the required cumulative GPA.

De-matriculation/Suspension

Students who have been academically suspended from the College are not eligible for financial aid. Once re-matriculated (re-admitted) by the College, students must complete the financial aid SAP appeal process. Students must submit an SAP appeal form and Verification of Academic Standing Form. Financial aid status and eligibility will be determined based on the College’s SAP standards through a review of the academic transcript and the Verification of Academic Standing Form.

Excluded Grades

The following types of grades cannot be used to remove financial aid probation or suspension or to fulfill re-matriculation requirements: credits by audit or special examination; grades earned from advanced placement or CLEP exams for which prior approval was not obtained; withdrawal or incomplete grades; and grades earned in zero-credit courses.

Additional SAP Requirements

1. Students who are not receiving financial aid will still be evaluated for financial aid eligibility on the same basis as students who receive federal, state, or institutional aid. Should such students apply for financial aid, eligibility will be based on their past performance as measured by the SAP standards for financial aid.

2. Students who are enrolled in a dual degree program may request in writing an extension of the maximum time frame provision of the SAP policy. Such requests will be evaluated on an individual basis.

3. Students who are pursuing a second degree will be given the equivalent of six (6) full-time semesters to complete the program, including prerequisite courses.

4. Transfer students will be placed within the policy’s maximum time-frame level based on the number of transfer credits accepted by Morris Brown College.

5. Credits earned at foreign institutions are included in the financial aid SAP evaluation if the college accepts the credits.

6. Courses in which a grade of ‘I’ was given will count toward the academic year attempted minimum and will influence the GPA in the semester the course was taken. All attempted and earned credits are counted in time-frame determination.

7. Credit for remedial courses will count toward determination of enrollment status, minimum credits, and maximum time frame.
8. Courses that are repeated will count toward enrollment status and maximum time frame. For purposes of financial aid SAP, only credits adding to the cumulative credits earned will be acceptable toward the required minimum number of credits earned each year. Repeat courses for which a student previously received a passing grade will not count.

Right to Appeal

1. Students may appeal the SAP decision regarding financial aid probation or suspension status by submitting a completed appeal form to the Financial Aid office within ten calendar days of notification.

2. Students placed on financial aid suspension due to insufficient GPA or minimum credits earned must submit a SAP appeal and a current MBC official academic transcript.

3. De-matriculated students (students on academic suspension) who have been re-admitted to the college must submit a SAP appeal form and Verification of Academic Standing Form.

4. Students who fail to achieve financial aid SAP due to mitigating circumstances should submit the SAP appeal form, a current MBC transcript, and a letter of explanation with all appropriate documentation attached. Mitigating circumstances would include extreme illness or injury, family crises, or additional credits earned from incomplete courses.

Appeals and supporting documentation should be mailed to the following address:

The Office of Student Financial Aid
Morris Brown College
643 Martin Luther King Jr. Drive, N.W.
Atlanta, GA 30314.

The Financial Aid Appeals Committee will review the request and make a decision within ten business days of the receipt of the appeal. Written notification of the decision will be forwarded to the student. The decision of the committee is final.

Financial Aid

Institutional Financial Aid Programs

Morris Brown College offers or administers several scholarships and financial programs, including institutional academic scholarships, grants-in-aid, and scholarships from private sources. Inquiries should be directed to the Financial Aid Office.

STUDENT SERVICES

Student Services provides programs and services that focus on students’ personal, interpersonal, intellectual, spiritual, social, emotional, and physical development. In conjunction with the functions of the Office of Academic Affairs, the functions of Student Services enable students to benefit maximally from their college experiences. Policies about student life are outlined in the Morris Brown College Student Handbook. Students should obtain a copy of the Student Handbook and become familiar with these policies.

Student Services oversees numerous programs, services, and activities, including the following:

1. New Students Orientation Program
2. Student Activities and Organizations
3. Student Government Association
4. Excuse Validation
5. Counseling and Health Services
6. Career Counseling Services
7. Student Judicial Council
8. Student Residential Living

New Student Orientation Program

At the beginning of each fall semester, a comprehensive New Student Orientation Program is provided for incoming freshmen. The program consists of a full schedule of activities, placement testing, and opportunities for new students and parents to become acquainted with the College.

Student Activities and Organizations

Student Activities is responsible for the coordination and implementation of all cultural, social, personal development and extra-curricular activities of the College. This department also registers and monitors the activities of all student organizations. The various campus organizations are established to ensure a well-rounded educational experience, to enhance classroom instruction and to provide opportunities for personal development. Students should refer to the Student Handbook for information governing student organizations, charting procedures for student organizations, conditions that lead to the revocation of an organization’s charter and procedures for scheduling events and programs. All student organizations must be registered with Student Activities to be sanctioned officially as a student organization.
Student Government Association (SGA)

When students become enrolled officially at Morris Brown College, they become members of the student body. The Student Government Association (SGA) is the governing organization of the student body. The SGA is recognized by the College as the official “voice” of the student body and the channel for expressing student concerns. The role of the SGA is to help implement school policies, practices, and College tradition; to encourage projects and activities which foster social development and cultural enrichment; to promote among students a positive self-image and spirit of unity; to help students develop leadership skills and to help students develop opportunities or creative involvement in campus life. The Morris Brown College Queen and King are Student Ambassadors and work with the SGA. Students can be elected to or appointed to positions within Student Government.

Criteria for Officers: To be nominated as an officer of the SGA or a College queen or king, a student must be currently enrolled and in good standing, not be on disciplinary probation, and not have a judicial record from the previous semester. Specific additional requirements to serve in student government or represent the institution as a queen or king, including rules and procedures, can be secured from the Student Services. The required grade point average for the SGA president is 2.7 or above and for a College queen or king is 2.8 or above.

Admission to Student Activities: A current Morris Brown College identification card and/or an admission fee permits admission to all campus activities.

Participation in Student Activities: Students are encouraged strongly to participate in extracurricular activities and to gain membership in student organizations in order to develop special talents and skills, as well as to increase their potential for leadership and social development.

The college urges students—especially new students and freshmen—to limit their participation in extracurricular activities and to choose membership into student organizations carefully, taking into consideration of their academic priorities, interests, and other personal concerns.

Students on academic or disciplinary probation are ineligible to participate in extracurricular activities or to maintain membership in student organizations.

Excuse Validation

The excuse validation process is designed to respond to students’ request for excused absences from classes for approved school-related activities, documented illnesses, and other circumstances as evaluated by the Student Services designee. Students must obtain a Student Excuse Data Form from the Student Services designee and attach the appropriate documentation. All documentation is subject to verification. Any documentation found to be forged, falsified or containing unauthorized alterations will be addressed. It should be noted that receiving an excused absence and presenting it to instructors does not automatically entitle a student to make up missed work. Although instructors are encouraged to afford the student an opportunity to make-up missed major examinations in the case of excused absences, it is still at the discretion of the instructor to allow the student to make up any missed assignments, laboratory work, quizzes or major examinations.

Student Counseling and Health Services

Student Counseling and Health Services offer provisions which foster and promote student learning and development that encourage wellness and healthy living.

A Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC) and a medical physician serves as on-call health care providers for our students. These qualified professionals may see students by appointment in individual and group sessions covering a wide range of health, wellness and disability issues.

Ms. Deborah Sims, a Licensed Professional Counselor provides individual counseling, group counseling and career and placement services. Students may schedule individual appointments by calling (404) 458-6085, Ext. 2011.

Dr. Sherell Vicks serves as the on-call physician. Students may schedule individual appointments by calling her office, Hillandale Medical Associates, (770) 808-0092.

We will strive to become the principle advocate for a healthy campus community.

Student Judicial Council/Student Code of Conduct

The Student Judicial Council is operated as an integral part of the educational support services of Morris Brown College and is guided by the College’s Student Code of Conduct Standards. As an entity within Student Services, this council ensures that all students enrolling at Morris Brown College conduct themselves as responsible members of the campus community and in accordance with standards of common decency and decorum, with recognition and respect for the personal and property rights of others and the educational mission of the college.

The Student Judicial Council has primary authority for the supervision of student conduct and administration of discipline. The Student Judicial Council Members work with students and student organizations to encourage support and compliance with college standards. This council is responsible for the coordination of all disciplinary procedures and maintaining appropriate records of student conduct and disciplinary actions.
Student Services, the student judicial council members in conjunction with the Office of Public Safety conduct group meetings with students to review the student code of conduct. Refer to the Student Handbook for detailed information on the judicial process, including prohibited behaviors, sanctions, hearings, and appeals.

Student Residential Living Services

Student Residential Living Services provides students the opportunity to secure a safe living environment during their college years. Morris Brown College does not operate campus housing; however, through cooperative partnership arrangements, the College can offer its student residential living options: dormitory at Turner Theological Seminary located adjacent to the Morris Brown College campus.

The Turner Theological Seminary dorms offer Morris Brown College students the options of double-occupancy rooms, and efficiencies are available for adult students. Additionally, Gammon Dormitory offers single-occupancy rooms. Such services as laundry, telephone, and internet services are provided, as well as study space. Rooms are fully secured by 24-hour security services.

Meal plans are available to Morris Brown College Students at Clark Atlanta University Dining Services. Additional option for off-campus housing is WestMar Student Lofts located seven minutes from campus. Morris Brown College does not currently convene arrangements with this facility.

Commuter Student Services

Student Services also coordinates residential living away from the campus for students who desire to live off campus but near the campus. Student Services provides an off-campus housing directory for students who need assistance in locating housing. Additionally, Student Services develops working relationships with landlords and housing complexes, coordinates commuter student activities, and responds to commuter student concerns.

Student Grievance Procedures

Student grievance procedures at Morris Brown College are intended to provide a formal, standardized means for students to seek redress concerning actions of the College and/or faculty, administrators, and staff of the College. Further, the purpose is to establish standardized procedures and safeguards, which shall be followed by the College in the adjudication of grievances. Students considering filing a formal grievance are urged to read the complete text of the Student Grievance Procedure document in this handbook.

What Is a Grievance? A grievance is a formal complaint by a student arising out of an alleged action of the College, including faculty, administrators and/or staff of the College. Such action is alleged by the student to be unauthorized and/or unjustified and adversely affecting the status, rights or privileges of the student, including actions based on race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, handicap, or veteran status.

Students are reminded that the grievance procedure is not designed to replace the open communication and understanding that are vital to the academic process. If the student wishes to proceed with a grievance, the student may withdraw the grievance at any stage and the process will immediately terminate. During all stages of the grievance, the burden of proof will be on the party making the allegation.

The Student Grievance Policy does not allow for the involvement of parents, legal counsel or other representation. The presence of these representatives is prohibited during the Student Hearing or Grievance Process.

How Does One Grieve?

Step 1: Informal discussion between the concerned parties is always the place to start. If attempts to resolve the problem at this level fail or if the person alleged to have aggrieved the student cannot be reached by reasonable effort, or if the nature of the grievance is such that an informal meeting is not possible or the student feels uncomfortable, the student has the right to continue to step two of the grievance procedure.

Step 2: If the student grieving against a College employee has not been able to resolve the problem through direct and informal communication with the employee, the student must meet informally with the employee’s department chairperson. If, after ten (10) working days a satisfactory solution is not found, the chairperson will meet with the student. If the student chooses to file a formal grievance, the student must give a written statement of grievance (see “Statement of Grievance” below) to the chairperson of the program in which the employee served at the time of the alleged action.

Formal grievance statements received by the chairperson may or may not be referred to a department or program level committee that recommends action to the chairperson. The chairperson will investigate the allegations and reach a conclusion that does or does not support the student’s contentions. The chairperson has fifteen (15) working days to respond to the student after the conclusion of the investigation.

If either the student or the person against whom the grievance was filed disagrees with the chairperson’s findings and recommendations, that person may appeal under procedures outlined in Step 3.

Step 3: If the student or person against whom the grievance was filed is not satisfied with the results of Step 2, or if the grievance is against the chairperson of a department, the student must next transmit a written statement of grievance (see below) to the Vice President of Academic Affairs. The Vice President of Academic Affairs will refer the grievance to a committee (Step 3) established at the senior administration level.

Step 4: If the student is not satisfied with the results of Step 3 or if the grievance is against a senior administrator, the student may file a written statement of grievance with the College Student Grievance Committee. If the grievance involves the teaching responsibility of such an administrator, however, Steps 1, 2, and 3 cannot be bypassed.

Step 5: If a student is not pleased with a decision, a final institutional appeal can be made to the Office of the President.

Students should be familiar with the following terms as they are used at Morris Brown College.

Academic Advisor – A faculty or staff member designated to help students plan and select appropriate courses for their programs of study/majors and help them engage in informed career decision-making.

Academic Advisement – The process of helping a student plan and select appropriate courses in the correct sequence and providing relevant information for career decision-making.

Academic Assessment – Upon admission to the college, the process of testing and evaluating a student’s level of competence in verbal and quantitative skills necessary to satisfy formal entry requirements to a major program of study.

Academic Dishonesty – Breaking the Morris Brown College Honor Code.

Academic Dismissal – After academic probation and academic suspension, the permanent dismissal of a student from the College due to failure to achieve the requirements for satisfactory academic progress.

Academic Probation – A status that indicates that the students failed to achieve the requirements for satisfactory academic progress. During the academic probation period, a student will be allowed to continue to take course at a reduced load and will be expected to achieve a designated grade point average. A student on academic probation who does meet the requirements for satisfactory academic progress will be placed on academic suspension for the following academic year.

Academic Suspension – After failure to meet the requirements for satisfactory academic progress during the academic probation period, a student in not allowed to enroll in the college for the following academic year.

Advanced Placement – Eligibility for enrollment in courses beyond the entry level through appropriate entrance and/or placement testing.

AUC – The Atlanta University Center, comprised of Clark Atlanta University, Morehouse College, Morris Brown College, Spelman College, the Morehouse School of Medicine, and Interdenominational Theological Center.

Baccalaureate Degree – The degree granted by Morris Brown College after completion of at least 120 semester credit hours and fulfillment of all other graduation requirements.
Classification – The designation of Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, or Senior based on the number of semester credit hours earned. Note: Being a senior does not mean that you are eligible to graduate.

Concentration – A specialization area within some majors.

Core Curriculum – A group of courses required of all students regardless of major, in the areas of humanities, natural sciences, mathematics, and social sciences. Note: Some departments also have core Curriculum.

Co-Requisite – A required course that must be taken during the same semester as another required course.

Course Code – The course prefix and course number (e.g., HIST 201) that represents a course.

Course Number – A three-digit code number (e.g., 201) that represents a course, when combined with a course prefix.

Course Prefix – An abbreviated letter series (e.g., HIST) that represents a course, when combined with a course number. The course prefix indicates the department that offers the course.

Credit by Examination/CLEP – Course credit received upon the completion of a standardized examination offered through the College Level Examination Program (CLEP). The grade “P” is recorded on the student's transcript.

Credit Hour – A unit of academic credit measured in semester hours. One 50-minute recitation or lecture period constitutes a semester hour, while two hours of laboratory work generally count as an hour of lecture time.

Credit/Course Load – The total number of credit hours for which a student registers during a given semester.

Cumulative Grade Point Average – The overall grade point average that is based on courses completed during the student’s matriculation at the College.

Deadline – The date by which certain information must be received by a given office of the College or by which certain responsibilities must be fulfilled by students (in class, etc) or staff.

Declaration of Major - Making formal application to a major program of study at the end of the student’s second semester, but no later than the fourth semester of matriculation. To be accepted as a major, the student must meet the department’s program entry criteria.

Deportment – One’s conduct or behavior.
Developmental Courses – Courses with number below 100 that must be taken if score on placement tests are below minimum standards. Developmental courses are for institutional credit only; credit does not apply to hours required for graduation.

Drop/Add – The process of making changes in a course schedule, either reducing the course load (dropping a course) or increasing the course load (adding a course). Dropping or adding courses can be done only within the specific time period indicated on the College calendar. A fee is assessed for each change made in a student's course schedule after completion of registration.

Dual Degree Program – A program within some departments in which a student may obtain a degree from both Morris Brown College and an affiliated institution upon completion of requirements at both institutions.

Early Admission Student – A high-achieving high school senior who is admitted to MBC prior to graduating from high school.

Electives – The term "elective" generally means "option" or "choice." "Major electives" are choices of non-required courses within the major. "General or free electives" are choices of any non-required courses. The number of major electives and/or general electives is specified in each program description.

Enrollment – To be officially enrolled at the College, the student must select courses, have the courses entered in the registration system, complete all required forms, pay the appropriate fees, and receive verification of their enrollment. No credit will be awarded if the student is not officially enrolled.

Entry Criteria for a Major – Specific requirements that must be met in order for a student to be accepted as an official major in a program of study. Entry criteria are specified in each program description.

Exit Criteria for a Major – Specific requirement that must be met in order for a student to graduate with a degree in a designated program of study. Exit criteria are specified in each program description.

Final Examination – At the end of each semester, test or other evaluative measures are administered in all classes. The results of these evaluations contribute to the student’s final average and grade.

Full-time Student – A student enrolled with a minimum of 12 semester hours during any particular semester.

General Education Courses – A group of courses required of all students regardless of major; see "Core Curriculum."
Good Standing – A designation that indicates that a student is in good academic standing by having a 2.0 cumulative GPA or the required GPA for the number of hours attained.

GPA – Grade Point Average. The GPA is the numerical value of a student's academic performance. A semester GPA and a cumulative GPA are calculated and recorded each semester on a student’s transcript.

Grade Point – A numerical value assigned to each course completed and used in computing the GPA. Each letter grade is assigned a numeric value: A = 4; B = 3; C = 2; D = 1; F = 0. The number of grade points assigned is determined by multiplying the value of the letter grade by the number of hours of the course.

Grading – MBC uses a grading system based on the following letters and scholastic value: A (excellent), B (above average), C (average), D (passing, but poor), F (failure), I (incomplete), and W (withdrawal).

Hardship – For the purpose of making an appeal for a withdrawal from a course after the deadline, “hardship” is defined as any of the following: a) family problems [e.g., death in the immediate family]; b) illness or accident that required reasonably lengthy hospitalization or confinement; or c) personal hardship [e.g., loss of property or personal support].

HBCU – Historically Black College and University. Morris Brown College is an HBCU.

Home Institution – The institution in which the student is principally enrolled.

Honor Code – A code of conduct for MBC students which specifies behavioral expectations of students during examinations and in presentation of their work.

Honors List – A list of high achieving students published every semester. The list is divided in three categories: Highest Honors (4.00 GPA), High Honors (3.50-3.99 GPA), and Honors (3.00-3.49 GPA).

Honors Program – A program of the College that recognizes and provides special opportunities for high achieving students.

Honors for Graduating Seniors – The following honors may be awarded to graduating seniors: Summa Cum Laude (With Highest Honors) for those with a GPA of at least 3.9; Magna Cum Laude (With High Honors) with a GPA of at least 3.4; and Cum Laude (With Honors) for those with a GPA of at least 3.0.

Host Institution – The institution at which the student cross-registers.

Incomplete – A temporary grade awarded if a student cannot take a final examination due to a verified emergency. This grade allows the student to take the final examination the following semester and receive a permanent grade in the course.

Institutional Credit – Credit hour that is not applied to the hours required for graduation.
Joint Enrollment – Enrollment by a high school senior in courses at the College concurrently with remaining high school classes. College credit is received upon satisfactory completion of the College courses.

Late Registration – Registration for courses in a given semester after the period specified in the College calendar.

Major – A course of study in a knowledge field offered by an academic department and in which the student engages in advanced work in that field during the Junior and Senior years.

Major Courses – Courses specific to the discipline and to the designated program of study. No credit will be granted in major courses for grades below “C”.

Master Plan – The outline and record of the requirements for a particular major.

Matriculation – The process of enrolling and taking classes at the College.

MBC - Morris Brown College.

Midterm – The middle of a semester. Tests or other evaluative measures are given at midterm to enable students to judge the quality of their work up to that point in the semester.

Minor – An optional secondary academic field intended to complement and buttress a student’s major academic field. Completion of minors is not a graduation requirement.

Minor Courses – Courses specific to the secondary academic field. No credit will be granted in minor courses for grades below “C”.

Non-degree Student – A student who is pursuing studies at the College but is not a candidate for a degree.

Overload – A course load of more than 18 hours. Permission must be obtained in order for a student to register for an overload.

Part-time Student – A student enrolled in less than 12 semester hours during a particular semester.

Plagiarism – Presenting or otherwise submitting oral or written work as one’s own when it is not entirely one’s own work.

Pre-registration – The process of signing for courses during the semester before the semester in which the courses will be taken.

Prerequisite – A course that must be completed before a student can register for a designated course.
Program of Study – The requirements outline to complete a major; see “Major.”

Reading Period – The period between the last day of classes and the first day of final examinations that is used to prepare for final examinations.

Readmission – Reinstatement in the College after having withdrawn or after having been suspended for academic or disciplinary reasons.

Registration – The process of signing up for courses and having the courses entered into the registration process.

Regular Course Load – The normal course load for a full-time student, which is 15 to 18 credit hours. Twelve (12) hours is the minimum course load a student can take to be considered full-time. Up to 18 hours may be taken without being charged for an overload.

Required Courses – Specified courses, beyond the general education core requirements, which are required for the completion of the program of study.

Retention Criteria for a Major - Specific requirements which must be met in order for a student to remain as a major in a designated program of study. Retention criteria are specified in each program description.

Semester Grade Point Average – The grade point average that is based on courses completed during a particular semester during the student’s matriculation at the College.

Supportive Course – Course related to the major as outlined in the program of study.

Transcript – The record of a student’s academic performance during his/her matriculation at the College.

Transfer Student – A currently enrolled student who has been enrolled previously in another accredited college.

Transient Student – A student who has temporarily enrolled in another institution and who plans to return to his/her Home Institution. Transient permission must be obtained from the Home Institution.

Withdrawal – After the official drop/add period, students may be permitted to withdraw from a course up to 5:00 p.m. on the 14th school day following the last official day of mid-semester examinations. If a student stops attending class, but does not officially withdraw, a grade of “W” will not be awarded.

General Academic Rules and Regulations

It is the aim of the College to admit those students who demonstrate the intellectual ability and personal motivation to take full advantage of the experiences and opportunities that the College offers. Therefore, the following general academic rules and regulations apply:

1. The President and the faculty reserve the right to approve or disapprove of the work and conduct of students in all areas of college life.

2. In compliance with the Privacy Act of 1974, the College honors a student's right to prevent disclosure of personally identifiable information, with certain exceptions. In this respect, no student's grades or disciplinary report may be sent to the student's parents, guardian, other individuals, or group unless the student waives his/her right of privacy to this information on the original entrance application to the college, or on another official document thereafter.

3. The College reserves the right to make changes as required in curricula, academic policies, and other rules and regulations affecting students, to become effective whenever determined by the College.

4. Students are ultimately responsible for knowing and observing all regulations that may affect their status at Morris Brown College.

5. Students may be denied the privileges of the College, or may forfeit their connection with it, upon the commission of any act specifically forbidden by College regulations or otherwise involving moral turpitude, destruction of property, disorderly conduct, academic dishonesty, or other conduct deemed inappropriate by the College.

6. Students should be aware of, and abide by, the Morris Brown College Honor Code.
7. The College reserves the right to withhold the privilege of further registration from students who, in the judgment of faculty or administrators, are considered incompetent in scholarship or otherwise unfit to continue work at the institution.

Deficient scholarship shall be sufficient cause for academic probation, suspension, or dismissal from the College.

8. Students whose scholarship or deportment is deficient may be denied the privilege of representing the school in any public exercise or athletic contest.

9. Students who have been admitted conditionally, or who are on probation, and who fail to show evidence of their aptitude for successful college work, may be dismissed before the end of the semester without the privilege of subsequent registration.

10. All students who matriculate in the College must undergo a physical examination and present documentation of such before formal admission is completed.

11. Students must maintain responsible behavior during examinations and conform to the conditions established by the College representative in charge of the examination.

12. Students must refrain from plagiarism. Plagiarism is defined as presenting or otherwise submitting another person’s oral or written work as one’s own work. Plagiarism includes either quoting or paraphrasing another’s work without properly citing or acknowledging the author or source. Students must also refrain from inadvertently creating the appearance of plagiarism or contributing to plagiarism on the part of others.

The Honor Code

As members of the Morris Brown College academic community, students are expected to abide by and uphold standards of academic and intellectual integrity. To this end, students are expected to be aware of and adhere to the Morris Brown College Honor Code.

1. Students must not ask for, give, or receive information or any other form of help in an examination or test administered by a representative of the College.

2. Students must maintain responsible behavior during examinations and conform to the conditions established by the College representative in charge of the examination.

3. Students must refrain from plagiarism. Plagiarism is defined as presenting or otherwise submitting another person’s oral or written work as one’s own work. Plagiarism includes either quoting or paraphrasing another’s work without properly citing or acknowledging the author or source. Students must also refrain from inadvertently creating the appearance of plagiarism or contributing to plagiarism on the part of others.

4. All members of the Morris Brown College academic community are expected to report violations of the Honor Code to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Students charged with violating the Morris Brown College Honor Code will be referred to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Vice President will thoroughly review the charge. Lack of knowledge about the Morris Brown College Honor Code is not an acceptable defense to a charge of violation of the Honor Code. Students found guilty of breaking the Honor Code will be penalized; penalties may include receiving an “F” grade in the course in question or suspension from the College.
Academic Credit by Examination

Morris Brown College is a participant in the following methods to receive academic credit through the Advanced Placement Program (AP), the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), DANTES Subject Standardized Tests (DSST), Excelsior Exams, SOPHIA Learning and Prior Military Training for Credit. Students may receive academic credit by examination through these programs; some academic departments provide opportunities for college credit or course exemption based on performance on approved departmental examinations.

Advanced Placement Examinations (AP)

Under AP Program standards, a score of 3 or higher on an AP examination may be submitted as evidence of a college level course completed in high school. A minimum score of 3 on an AP examination earns three semester credit hours in a relevant Core Curriculum course.

In order for credit by AP examination to be applied to transcripts, students must complete an Application for Credit by Examination and attach a copy of the official AP test score report. Applications and supporting documentation should be submitted to the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

College credit by AP examination can be awarded as follows:

The College Level Examination Program (CLEP)

The College Level Examination Program (CLEP) is a national program through which a student can obtain course credit through two types of examinations: General Examinations and Subject Examinations.

General Examinations are one-hour objective tests that measure achievement in the liberal arts, including English Composition, Humanities, Mathematics, Natural Sciences, and Social Sciences.

Subject Examinations measure achievement in specific college-level courses. Each Subject Examination is a 90-minute objective test; optional 90-minute essay exams are also available for some subject areas.

Credit through CLEP

1. The minimum score for awarding credit will be the mean test score indicated on the student’s test score report.

2. Students who earn at or above the mean score on a CLEP examination will receive credit for the corresponding courses as indicated on the chart below.

3. A student is limited to 30 hours of credit through CLEP testing.

4. A student may receive up to 6 hours credit in any one field, with the exception of chemistry, where the total may be up to 8 hours.

5. The grade “P” is recorded on the student’s transcript for successful completion of a CLEP examination.

6. In the event that a student transfers to another institution, the College is not responsible for CLEP credit not accepted by schools that do not participate in the College Level Examination Program.

7. Students must receive approval from the major department chairperson before registering for a CLEP examination.

8. In order for credit by CLEP examination to be applied to transcripts, students must complete an Application for Credit by Examination and attach a copy of the official CLEP test score report. Applications and supporting documentation should be submitted to the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Transfer Credit

Effective fall semester 2002, the following policies and procedures apply to transfer credit. The official transcript(s) must be submitted no later than mid-term of the semester in which the transfer student enrolls.

Policies for Awarding Transfer Credit

1. Upon admission, transfer credit will be awarded for equivalent coursework earned at a college or university that is accredited by its regional accrediting agency; coursework completed at a non-accredited institution will not be accepted.

2. Transfer credits awarded will not exceed the equivalent of ninety-two (92) semester hours or the equivalent quarter hours, or the amount of credit based on a previously negotiated articulation agreement between the particular institution and Morris Brown College.

3. Only courses in which a grade of “C” or better was earned will be considered for transfer credit. Developmental/remedial courses—courses numbered below 100—will not be accepted for transfer credit.

4. Only official transcripts from other institutions will be accepted by the Morris Brown College Office of the Registrar for evaluation. Transcripts issued to students or those in unsealed transcript envelopes will not be accepted.

5. Credits from one former institution appearing on the transcript of another institution can neither be officially evaluated for admission nor accepted for credit until an official transcript has been received from the institution originating the credit.

6. The registrar will determine the acceptance of transfer courses and credit that is to count towards the core curriculum. Academic departments retain final authority in determining the acceptance of transfer courses and credit that is to count towards the major.

7. Some courses accepted as transfer credits may not be relevant to the particular degree sought. Thus, the College does not guarantee that credit will be awarded toward graduation in a particular major for all transferred courses.

8. Students must submit course descriptions and/or course syllabi when requested in order to facilitate the transfer course evaluation and course substitution process.

9. Accepted transfer credits may count toward graduation but will not be computed into the student’s cumulative grade point average. Only the hours and quality points earned while attending Morris Brown College will constitute the student’s cumulative grade point average at Morris Brown.

10. In order for a transfer student to graduate from Morris Brown College, he or she must complete the courses prescribed for the completion of a degree.

Procedures for Awarding Transfer Credit

1. Transfer applicants should request that the registrar of each college attended send an official transcript to the Morris Brown College Office of the Registrar.
2. The Morris Brown College Registrar will conduct a “Level 1 Review of Transfer Credits”; that is, the registrar will:
   a. determine the accreditation status of institutions from which students are seeking to transfer credits;
   b. evaluate the transcript(s) of transfer students to determine course equivalents for core curriculum requirements; and
   c. list on the Transfer Course Evaluation Form (a) equivalent core curriculum courses and (b) other courses in which a grade of “C” or better was made which may be approved by a department chairperson as applicable to a particular degree.

3. In order to ensure that transferred coursework accepted for credit toward a degree represents coursework relevant to the Morris Brown College degree, the respective department chairperson will conduct a “Level 2 Review of Transfer Credits for the Major”; that is, the department chairperson will
   a. review the Transfer Course Evaluation Form to determine course equivalents for departmental/major requirements;
   b. evaluate the level of instruction (e.g., course number) and course content (e.g., course description) of transferred course work vis-à-vis major course work taught at MBC; and
   d. list transfer course equivalents to be accepted for credit toward the degree on the Course Substitution Form (the registrar, the department chairperson and the student must sign this form).

Please note that as an unaccredited institution, we cannot guarantee that credits from Morris Brown College will transfer to another institution.

Academic Advisement

Academic advisement is mandatory for all students at Morris Brown College who are seeking degrees. Although academic advisors will endeavor to provide timely and accurate information and advisement to students, ultimately, students are responsible for knowing and observing all regulations that may affect their status at the College and all requirements for completion of a degree.

The Student’s Responsibility in Academic Advisement

1. Students should meet with their academic advisor at least once a semester to gain an understanding of the requirements for their major, to plan course sequences, to plan for the next semester’s coursework, to keep records up-to-date, and to discuss career goals.

2. Students should be thoroughly aware of, and maintain records of, the requirements of their major program of study, all academic rules and regulations, and any changes made in curricula and academic policies and procedures.

Identifying and Meeting with an Academic Advisor

Steady and appropriate matriculation through a major is possible only if students maintain frequent interactions with academic advisors who are knowledgeable about core curriculum and major program requirements.
1. Academic advisors will assist students in planning and fulfilling their graduation requirements. In addition, academic advisors have the responsibility of approving all changes to students’ registration schedules.

2. All new students and transfer students may be classified as General Education majors and should be advised by academic advisors in the General Education Department.

3. New students and transfer students who have an interest in a specialized major may also register with the respective department as a "Pre-Major," at which time they will be assigned to an academic advisor.

4. Students who wish to major in a specialized field must apply to an academic department and meet the specific entry requirements for the particular major.

5. Students who have been accepted in a specialized major will be assigned to an academic advisor within their major department.

6. Students may not choose to remain as General Education majors and should be advised by academic advisors in their major.

7. In order to ensure that students meet with academic advisors to plan for the next semester’s coursework, registration may be delayed for those who do not obtain academic advisement.

8. Although students are assigned to academic advisors, ultimately, students are responsible for being aware of all academic rules and regulations and for knowing and fulfilling all requirements for completion of their major program of study.

Acceptance in a Major

Upon admission to the College, each student may be classified as a General Education major. Students may not choose to remain in this program of study but must choose a more specialized major. It is strongly recommended that students make formal application to the desired major program at the end of the second semester of enrollment, but no later than the fourth semester of matriculation. To be accepted formally in a major program, a student must fulfill the specific entry requirements for that particular major.

Each academic department reserves the right to approve or decline a student’s application to major in an area in its department based on the department’s program entry criteria. If declined, students may make a formal appeal to the department or may re-assess their career goals with academic advisors in the General Education department.

The specific entry requirements for each major are delineated in sections on the majors.

Majors

Major: A major is defined as a course of study in a field of knowledge offered by an academic department and in which the student engages in advanced work in that field during the junior and senior years. A major requires a minimum of 30 semester credit hours earned in a single department or in closely related departments. No credit will be granted in major courses for grades below “C.”
The Curriculum

The curriculum at Morris Brown College is organized under lower and upper divisions.

The Lower Division: The Core Curriculum

The lower division includes courses within the core curriculum and other courses numbered between 100 and 299. The lower division courses are designed (a) to prepare students for active participation in society as citizens and (b) to furnish students with a foundation necessary for successful completion of upper division courses.

The Upper Division: The Major Program of Study

The upper division courses are those that pertain to the student’s major program of study, including courses in the major and courses related to or supporting the major. The upper division courses are numbered 300 – 499. The upper division courses allow students (a) to concentrate in selected fields of study and (b) to develop a knowledge base and skills required in certain professional fields.

Course Numbering

The initial digit of numbers assigned to courses indicates the recommended year that the student takes the course. Thus, courses with numbers between 100 and 199 should be taken in the first year, those between 200 and 299 in the second year, and courses with numbers between 300 and 499 should be taken during the third and fourth year. Additionally,

1. Courses with numbers below 100 (e.g., 099) are considered “basic skills” courses and are for institutional credit only; credit for these courses does not apply to hours required for graduation.

2. Courses with a single three-digit number are semester courses. These courses may be offered either the first semester or the second semester or both semesters.

3. Courses with a hyphenated number (e.g., 101-102) are year-long courses that will count toward graduation only upon completion of the entire year’s work.

4. Courses with double numbers (e.g., 101, 102) are year courses that are so organized that either semester may count toward graduation without completing the entire year’s work.

Grade Reports

Final grades are submitted to the Office of the Registrar at the end of each semester. Prior to mid-semester, students whose work is below the standards and criteria established by Morris Brown College and the respective course(s) will be referred to the Academic Support Department for tutoring and academic advisement. At mid-term, faculty must inform students in writing of their standing in the class to date.
Grading System

Morris Brown College uses a grading system based on the letters A, B, C, D, F, I, W. The significance of these letters is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Scholastic Value</th>
<th>Grade Point Value</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>Excellent</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>Above Average</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>Average</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D</td>
<td>Passing, but Poor</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>Failure</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I</td>
<td>Incomplete</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WP</td>
<td>Withdrawal</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WF</td>
<td>Withdrawal, Passing</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

1. No credit will be granted in major or minor courses for grades below "C."

2. Grades earned at other colleges by Morris Brown College transient students will be assigned grade point value in terms of the Morris Brown College grading system.

3. A grade of “P” will be assigned to earned academic credit by examination.

4. Instructors are required to provide their students with a written grading system/scale at the beginning of each semester. Students have the right to appeal their grades if they have probable cause or documentation that their work deserves a higher grade.

Course Repeat Policy and Computation of Cumulative GPA

The following policies apply to repeated courses and the cumulative grade point average:

1. A course may be repeated no more than three times.

2. The repeated course grade becomes the official grade for the course, even if the repeated course grade is lower.

3. The repeated course grade replaces the original course grade in the computation of the cumulative grade point average. However, the original course grade will remain on the academic transcript and will be marked with an “E” to designate that the course is excluded from the cumulative grade point average.

4. The repeated course must be the same as the original course. If the repeated course is taken at another institution, prior approval to enroll in the course and to use the course as a “repeated course”, must be granted by the department chairperson, academic advisor, or person designated by the department. Approval must be indicated in writing and made a part of the student’s academic advisement file.
Grade Appeal Process—Student Initiated

Students have the right to appeal a grade if they believe that a grade has been awarded in error.

1. Students must initiate the appeal process within the semester immediately following the semester in which the grade was awarded, or the student forfeits the right to appeal.

2. If students initiate an appeal after one semester in which the grade was awarded, they must first provide to the Vice President for Academic Affairs (VPAA) a written explanation and documentation as to the nature of the delay in initiating the appeal. If approved, the student may proceed with the appeal.

Students must follow several steps to appeal a grade.

Step 1. Within the first semester following the awarding of a disputed grade, the student must prepare a written appeal, with supporting documentation, and meet with the instructor. At this meeting, the student and instructor must make every effort to arrive at a mutual consensus. If the instructor is no longer employed by the College, the student must meet with the Department Chairperson.

Step 2a. If mutual consensus is reached that there are grounds for a grade change, the instructor must complete a Change of Grade form indicating the grade change and the reason(s) for the change. The Change of Grade form must be signed by the instructor and the department chairperson and forwarded to the VPAA with supporting documentation, including a copy of the student’s written appeal, a copy of the final grade roster, a copy of the course syllabus, and a copy of the gradebook. A copy of these supporting documents must also be maintained in the departmental office.

Step 2b. If mutual consensus is not reached, the student may submit the written appeal and supporting documentation to the department chairperson. The department chairperson must meet with the student and instructor individually or jointly to review the student’s appeal and any materials needed to form an objective decision.

Step 3a. If the department chairperson determines that there are grounds for a grade change, either the instructor or the chairperson must complete a Change of Grade form indicating the grade change and the reason(s) for the change. The form must be signed by the instructor and department chairperson and forwarded to the VPAA with supporting documentation, including a copy of the student’s written appeal, a copy of the final grade roster, a copy of the course syllabus, and a copy of the gradebook. A copy of these supporting documents must also be maintained in the departmental office.

Step 3b. If the department chairperson determines that grounds do not exist for a grade change, the student may submit the written appeal and supporting documentation to the VPAA. The Vice President for Academic Affairs must meet with the student, instructor, and department chairperson individually or jointly to review the student’s appeal and any materials needed to form an objective decision.

Step 4. If the Vice President for Academic Affairs determines that grounds exist for a grade change, either the instructor, the chairperson, or the VPAA must complete a Change of Grade form indicating the grade change and the reason(s) for the change.
Step 5. If a student is not pleased with a decision, a final institutional appeal can be made to the Office of the President.

Change of Grade Process—Faculty Initiated

An instructor may request permission to change a grade when he/she discovers that an error has been made in the determination of a student’s final grade.

1. Such a request and change must be clearly substantiated by the instructor’s class records.

2. The instructor should complete a Change of Grade form indicating the grade change and the reasons for the change.

3. The form must be signed by the instructor and the department chairperson and forwarded to the VPAA with supporting documentation, including a copy of the final grade roster, a copy of the course syllabus, a copy of the gradebook, and the formula for calculating the final grades.

4. A copy of these documents must also be maintained in the departmental office.

5. No change of grade will be permitted without proper supporting documentation.

Student Tenure/Degree Completion Period

Full-time or part-time students who maintain continuous enrollment from their initial matriculation date at the College must complete their prescribed degree requirements, according to the catalog for the initial year of matriculation—or any year thereafter—within eight (8) years after initial enrollment at the College.

1. Failure to complete the prescribed degree requirements in eight years may result in loss of eligibility for a degree in the current major. However, credit for some of the courses...
previously completed may be awarded, depending on a departmental evaluation and the approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

2. If, as a result of curriculum improvement, an original course is no longer offered at the College within the eight-year time frame, the department may substitute an equivalent course.

3. A student who discontinues attending Morris Brown College for one or more years may return within eight years of first enrollment in the College but must adhere to the current major program course requirements for the major in which the degree will be awarded.

Classification

A student is classified as either a First-Year Student, a Sophomore, a Junior, or a Senior. A student’s annual classification is determined by the number of semester hours and grade points earned by the beginning of the academic year.

First-Year Student: A student who has fulfilled all admissions requirements and has earned 27 or fewer semester credit hours

Sophomore: A student who has earned at least 28 semester credit hours and at least 56 grade points

Junior: A student who has earned at least 60 semester credit hours and at least 120 grade points

Senior: A student who has earned at least 90 semester credit hours and at least 180 grade points

Good Academic Standing (Full-time Students)

To be in good academic standing and continue matriculating at the College, a student must show satisfactory academic progress by achieving the following:

1. a cumulative GPA of at least 1.50 and earn at least 21 semester hours during the 1st year of enrollment;

2. a cumulative GPA of at least 1.75 and earn at least 21 additional semester hours during the second year and 2.00 each succeeding academic year of enrollment leading to the graduation year;

3. a cumulative GPA of at least 2.00 during the graduation year of enrollment.

Academic Probation, Suspension, and Dismissal

Students who fail to make satisfactory academic progress and to remain in good academic standing will be placed on academic probation, will be suspended, or will be dismissed from the College. Based on the student’s total credits earned, academic probation, suspension, or dismissal will be enforced if the cumulative GPA falls below the required standards:

Academic Probation

1. During the academic probation period, students will only be permitted to register for a maximum of 12 credit hours.

2. Students who are on academic probation must maintain a grade point average of at least 2.00 each semester until their cumulative GPA is raised to the required minimum for their classification.

3. Students who do not achieve a semester grade point average of at least 2.00 any semester before the required cumulative GPA is reached will be placed on academic suspension for the following academic year.

4. Students will remain on probation as long as their cumulative GPA is below the minimum required, even if their semester grade point average is at least 2.00.

5. Students who have been on academic probation return to academic good standing only when their cumulative GPA is raised to the required minimum for their classification.

Academic Suspension

1. Students will be placed on academic suspension if, during the period of probation, they fail to meet the requirements for satisfactory academic progress, including failing to achieve a semester grade point average of at least 2.0.

2. A status of academic suspension means that a student is not allowed to enroll in the College for at least one academic year.

3. During the year of suspension, students must engage in an academic enrichment experience that is designed to strengthen academic skills and to increase the probability of success if re-admitted to Morris Brown. Examples of enrichment experiences are enrollment in relevant courses at a junior or community college and enrollment in a relevant continuing education class.

4. Students are eligible to apply for readmission at the end of the period of academic suspension. The application for readmission must be accompanied by documentation of completion of an academic enrichment experience; both must be submitted to the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
Academic Dismissal

If, after being readmitted from academic suspension, the requirements for satisfactory academic progress are not met, a student may be dismissed permanently from the College.

Appeal of Academic Probation, Suspension, or Dismissal

Students who have been placed on probation, suspension, or dismissal may appeal this action to the Academic Appeals Committee. Supporting documentation must be included with the appeal.

Seeking Readmission After Academic Suspension

Students on academic suspension may apply for readmission. Applicants must

1. complete a readmission application and a letter of academic intent and submit it to the Vice President for Academic Affairs;

2. submit to the Office of the Registrar all transcripts of academic and remedial work completed since the time of suspension (e.g., courses from junior or community colleges; continuing education courses); and

3. submit to the Vice President for Academic Affairs a physician’s statement if illness was a contributing factor in the applicant’s poor academic performance.
Distance Learning at Morris Brown College (MBC)

Morris Brown College offer all its programs (degree and certificates) in three modalities which include in-person traditional lecture, online (synchronous and/or asynchronous), and hybrid. The institution demonstrates that programs and courses offered via Distance Education and Correspondence Education are in compliance with the Federal definition of Distance Education and Correspondence Education. MBC uses the Learning Management System (LMS) Populi, which is cloud hosted to prevent weather or technology-related down time to the LMS. Faculty can build their courses in Populi, including as much information as desired such as PowerPoints, audio or video lectures, readings, quizzes, and assignments. Minimally, faculty will be required to post the course syllabus in Populi for face-to-face courses. Hybrid courses will follow national best practices for course materials.

Description of Learning Resource System

Populi is a Learning Management System. The LMS Website is: https://morrisbrown.populiweb.com/index.php. Each faculty and student are provided with a username and temporary password. Their username is affiliated with their college email address. The website requires a password change upon first login. The website provides an introductory tutorial for new users. In addition, a brief tutorial is provided in PDF format to faculty and students, and links to additional Populi tutorial YouTube videos are provided for additional help navigating the site. Students at Morris Brown College will use Populi to access his/her online classroom, grades, some Library resources, Financial information, credit/debit card payment options, and other resources not listed here. Populi also has Mobile Apps for both Android and Apple devices.

Class Modalities and Attendance

Class attendance is a vital aspect of the educational process; therefore, students must attend class regularly and arrive on time for each class. Instructors are required to keep accurate, up-to-date attendance records for all their classes. Students are expected to abide by the specific class attendance requirements for each course as determined by the individual instructor.

Traditional Lecture: Instructors are required to delineate specific class attendance requirements and penalties on each course syllabus and to discuss their class attendance policy with students at the beginning of each semester.

Online (Asynchronous): Asynchronous delivery refers to resources that you can access and use at any time (e.g., a video link or discussion board). Attendance for asynchronous learning will be counted based on the student posting in response to online discussion boards at least three times in one week. Additionally, students enrolled in asynchronous courses will also be required submit an “Attendance Acknowledgement” statement each week via Populi.
Online (Synchronous): Synchronous delivery means that it happens at a specific time and you are responsible for being available during that time (e.g., being in class or participating in a teleconference). Because synchronous delivery is still similar to traditional face-to-face except for location, specifics of attendance will still be delineated by instructors.

Absence from class may be necessitated by illness, family emergency, accidents, or official student participation in events. In such cases, a student may receive an excused absence from class from the Office of the Vice President of Student Affairs, if valid documentation and verification of the stated reason for absence is provided. An excused absence will not count against a student. However, an excused absence does not automatically entitle a student to make up missed work. Although instructors are encouraged to allow the student to make up missed requirements in the case of an excused absence, it is still at the discretion of the instructor to allow the student to make up any missed requirements, even in the case of an excused absence.

Distance Technology to be used when “Face-to-Face” instruction is Needed or Warranted

Morris Brown College recognizes that sometimes there are situations where face to face instruction is warranted. Faculty members may use videotelephony and online chat services through several cloud-based peer-to-peer software platforms that are widely used for teleconferencing, telecommuting, distance education, and social relations.

In these cases, instructors have access to several free resources including the following:
Zoom
UberConference
Google Hangouts Meet
Cisco WebEx Meetings
RingCentral Meetings
Skype

Class Tardiness Policy

Students are required to attend all classes promptly and regularly. Doors to classrooms may be closed/locked ten (10) minutes after class begins. After this time, a student may be permitted into the classroom only at the discretion of the instructor.

Request for an Incomplete Grade

1. A request for a grade of "I"/Incomplete may be submitted to the Vice President for Academic Affairs (VPAA) if a student is doing satisfactory work, but, for non-academic hardship reasons, the student is unable to complete the final requirements for the course.

2. Non-academic hardship reasons are defined as any of the following:

   a. family problems (e.g., death in the immediate family);
   b. illness or accident that requires hospitalization or confinement; and
   c. personal hardship (e.g., loss of property or personal support).

3. The possibility that a student may fail the course, a student’s inability to meet any set deadline for course requirements, and other academic reasons, are not appropriate grounds for awarding a grade of “I.”

4. The student must initiate the request for the incomplete grade and must provide documentation to the instructor of the non-academic hardship reason for the request for an “I”; the instructor must verify the hardship.

5. If verified, the instructor and the student must complete and sign the Request for Incomplete form that indicates the outstanding requirement(s), the arrangements for removing the incomplete grade, and the student’s average and grade without the outstanding requirements, including zeros for missing requirements.

6. The instructor should keep the original Request for Incomplete form and supporting documentation and the student should keep a copy of each. Additionally, one copy of the form and supporting documentation should be maintained in the departmental office attached to the final grade roster for the course and one copy of the form and supporting documentation should be forwarded immediately to the VPAA for review.

7. Upon review, the VPAA can overrule the awarding of an “I” grade if it is determined that the specified grounds for the request do not meet the criteria or cannot be verified. The VPAA will then inform the instructor and the student, in writing, that the “I” grade will not be honored, and a grade based on the completed requirements must be submitted on the Change of Grade form.

8. The student has one year (two consecutive semesters) to complete the requirement(s) for the removal of the “I” grade. If the student completes the requirements for the removal of the “I” grade, the instructor must complete a Removal of Incomplete form. If the “I” grade is not removed within the specified time, the “I” grade will be changed to a grade of “F.”

Prerequisites

A student cannot be placed in a course without completing the necessary prerequisite(s). Students who attempt to register for a course and fails to meet the prerequisite(s) will not see the course listed as available on their registration page. There may be an exception to this rule for students pending the approval of the Department Chair and the Vice-President of Academic Affairs for students who are classified as a Senior. Where applicable, the course will be taken simultaneously with the prerequisite.

Abandoning a Course

Students who stop attending class after the drop/add period, and who do not follow official course withdrawal procedures, will be considered as abandoning a course. Abandoning a course instead of officially withdrawing will result in a final grade of “F”. It is the student’s responsibility to initiate and follow-through with all course withdrawals.

Dropping a Course

Students may make changes in class schedules during the official drop/add period without any permanent record of their having enrolled in the dropped course(s). Students must complete the drop/add form and secure all required signatures. Students who wish to exit a course after the official drop/add period must complete a course withdrawal form.
Guidelines for Withdrawing from a Course

Students must receive official permission to withdraw from a course. Students who stop attending a course without officially withdrawing, will be considered as abandoning a course and will receive an “F” in that course. Formal application for withdrawal from the College must be made to the Registrar and permission granted by the Vice President for Academic Affairs and other College officials, before a student leaves the College. No remission of fees will be allowed students who do not formally withdraw.

Students must follow specific procedures for withdrawal.

1. After the Official drop/add period, students may be permitted to withdraw from a course up to 5:00 p.m. on the 14th school day following the mid-term period.

2. The College shall designate withdrawal as "W," meaning without penalty.

3. If a student is registered for a course but never attends or stops attending without officially withdrawing from the course, the instructor will award the grade “F.” The grade “W” will only be awarded if a student officially withdraws from the course.

4. After the deadline for requesting a withdrawal, the Vice President for Academic Affairs shall approve the awarding of a grade of "W" only on the basis of documented hardship. However, after this date, the VPAA may recommend an Incomplete ("I") grade if the student is in good academic standing at the time of proven hardship.

5. "Hardship" is defined as any of the following:
   a. family problems (e.g., death in the immediate family);
   b. illness or accident that requires lengthy hospitalization or confinement; or
   c. personal hardship (e.g., loss of property or personal support)

The student must provide adequate documentation for any form of hardship.

General Requirements for Graduation

In order to graduate from Morris Brown College with a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or a Bachelor of Science (B.S.), candidates must fulfill specific requirements.

1. Complete a minimum of 120semester credit hours with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0. and earn the number of grade points that equal at least twice the number of credit hours earned.

2. Fulfill all requirements for completion of the designated major.

3. Meet all financial and other obligations to the College.

Preparation for Graduation

Procedural Requirements

1. Prospective graduates should meet with their major advisor to complete a Transcript Review Form and an Application for Graduation, prior to registering for the first semester of their senior year. Both forms should be submitted to the department chairperson. Students should keep copies as well.
2. Prospective graduates should attend monthly senior class meetings.

3. Prospective graduates must complete all forms in the Placement Office.

4. Prospective graduates are encouraged strongly to participate in the Founders Day ceremony and in all commencement activities.

5. Senior class officers are responsible for notifying prospective graduates—in writing—of all senior class activities and of designated dates for ordering invitations, class rings, and other graduation paraphernalia.

Financial Requirements

1. Prospective graduates should ascertain and fulfill all financial obligations and expectations to the College at least one month prior to their final examinations.

2. All students filing for a diploma must pay senior class dues. Students who pay class dues but who do not graduate will not have to pay dues when they graduate; that is, class dues are paid only once.

Honors Awarded to Graduating Seniors

The following honors are awarded to eligible graduating seniors:

- Summa Cum Laude (With Highest Honors) - cumulative GPA of 3.90 – 4.00
- Magna Cum Laude (With High Honors) - cumulative GPA of 3.40 – 3.89
- Cum Laude (With Honors) - cumulative GPA of 3.00 – 3.39
ACADEMIC SUPPORT

The Office of Academic Support is responsible for the academic advisement of new students and General Education majors and is responsible for providing a comprehensive academic and learning support system that includes programs, services, and opportunities designed to increase the retention and graduation rates of Morris Brown students.

The academic and learning support services include placement testing upon admission; teaching the developmental/basic skills courses; individualized and small group tutoring; workshops on such topics as time management, test taking, and study skills; the use of print, audio-visual, and computer-assisted learning materials; and the College Level Examination Program (CLEP).

Academic Advisement

New students should meet with academic advisors in the General Education Department to (a) review placement test results, (b) review course requirements for basic skills courses, (c) review core curriculum requirements, (d) review requirements for all majors, (e) register for courses, and (f) explore career goals.

New students who have an interest in a specialized major also should register with the respective department as a “Pre-Major.” Students must apply to an academic department and meet the specific entry requirements for a major before being accepted officially in a major. Students should meet with their academic advisor at least once a semester to plan for the succeeding semester’s coursework.

The Career Services Center

Services of The Career Services Center include career counseling and placement, a career library, workshops, recruitment fairs, on-campus interviewing, cooperative education and internship programs, and community service-learning opportunities.

Through career counseling, students are assisted in obtaining full-time, part-time, and summer employment, as well as co-op and internship opportunities. Cooperative education and internship placements are designed to provide practical, hands-on experiences for students.

The Community Service-Learning Program is designed to instill community service attitudes and practices into the lives of students while impacting positively the lives of the community.

Please note that graduates are not guaranteed jobs after graduation.

THE CURRICULUM

The curriculum at Morris Brown College is organized under two divisions: lower and upper.

The Lower Division: The General Education Curriculum

The lower division embraces all work of the first two years that is designed to acquaint the student with those fields of human interest that influence present-day living. The lower division courses are a part of the General Education Program and together are referred to as the Core Curriculum. The lower division courses are designed

1. To prepare student for active participation in society as citizens

2. To furnish students with the background necessary for advanced study in selected subject matter areas of technical and professional specialization in accordance with their interest and aptitudes

The Upper Division: The Major Programs of Study

The upper division courses are those that pertain to the student's major program of study, including courses in the major and courses related to or supporting the major. The upper division courses allow students

1. To concentrate in selected fields of study important in the pre-service preparation of technical training and professions

2. To develop a knowledge base and skills required in certain professional fields

Course Numbering

The initial digit of numbers assigned to courses indicates the year in which it is most desirable that the courses be taken. The curriculum of the lower division presents courses numbered from 100 to 299 and the curriculum of the upper division presents courses numbered from 300 to 499. Thus, course with numbers between 100 and 199 should be taken in the first year, those between 200 and 299 in the second year, and courses with numbers between 300 and 499 should be taken during the third and fourth year.

Courses with number below 100 (e.g., 099) are considered “developmental” or basic skills courses and are for institutional credit only; credit does not apply to hours required for graduation.

Courses with a single three-digit number are semester courses. These courses may be offered either the first semester or the second semester, or both semesters.

Courses with a hyphenated number (e.g. 101-102) are year-long courses that will count toward graduation only upon completion of the whole year’s work.
Courses with double numbers (e.g. 101,102) are year courses that are so organized that either semester may count toward graduation without completing the whole year’s work.

The number in parentheses after the course title indicates the number of semester credit hours granted upon competition.

Academic Program Majors

Definition of a Major

At Morris Brown College, a “major” is defined as a course of study in a knowledge field offered by an academic department and in which the student engages in advanced work in that field during the Junior and Senior years. A major requires a minimum of 66 semester credit hours earned in a single department or in closely related departments.

No credit will be granted in major courses for grades below “C.”

Declaration of a Major

Each student should make formal application to a major program of study at the end of the student’s second semester, but no later than the fourth semester of matriculation. A “Declaration of Major” or “Change of Major” form must be filed with the Office of the Registrar and the appropriate academic department. Each academic department reserves the right to approve or decline the student’s application to major in that department based on the department’s program entry criteria.

List of Majors

Morris Brown College awards the Baccalaureate degree, Bachelor of Science (B.S.) or Bachelor of Arts (B.A.), in the following majors:

Bachelor of Science (B.S.)

- Psychology
- Organizational Management and Leadership
- Global Management and Applied Leadership
- Global Management and Applied Leadership with an eSports Concentration
- Hospitality Management

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.)

- Music

GENERAL EDUCATION CURRICULUM

The General Education Program is designed to prepare students for a workforce that demands intelligent team players, global thinkers, critical thinkers, problem solvers, and lifelong learners with excellent communication, interpersonal, and leadership skills. The program will prepare individuals who are inquisitive, analytical, and creative in their everyday lives as well as their professional lives. The graduates will be keenly aware of the social, ethical, and political implications of what they do. The General Education core provides in depth exposure to a range of intellectual disciplines within the humanities, social and behavioral sciences, natural sciences, and mathematics.

Policies Regarding the Core Curriculum

1. All students admitted to Morris Brown College, including transfer students, must successfully complete the core curriculum.

2. A total of 40 core curriculum credit hours is required for all students, irrespective of major.

3. All majors require 40 core curriculum credit hours.

4. Transfer credits may be approved as appropriate course substitutions for various courses within the core curriculum.

5. Transfer students who have earned fewer than 30 transferable semester credit hours must take “GED 100, New Student Success,” even if they took a similar “Freshman Orientation” course at a previous institution.

6. Transfer students who have earned more than 30 transferable semester credit hours that include a Freshman Orientation course may not use this course as a substitution for GED 100.

General Education Curriculum Learning Outcomes

The General Education Curriculum Learning Outcomes consist of:

1. Effective Communication
2. Quantitative and Financial Literacy
3. Information Literacy Technology
4. Arts and Humanities
5. Scientific Literacy

Students will be able to:

1. Utilize learned communicative skills intellectually and engage in conversations related to personal and social issues in oral, visual, graphic and written forms. [(Communication skills), Acquisition of}
2. Utilize quantitative skills and evidenced-based information in finances to become informed consumers, financial managers and investors. [(Quantitative and financial literacy. Acquisition of critical thinking skills should be part of the objectives in teaching Mathematics)].

3. Identify and use technological tools with acknowledgment of ethical issues in social, vocational, scientific digital sources (Information literacy and ethics).

4. Utilize skills in arts, humanities and social sciences to appreciate human diversity, culture and traditions; understand the value of science, medicine and technology as they relate to humanities; broaden their horizons and fantasize the development and quality of human lives in societies; appreciate creativity, evaluate and rationalize their impacts in our societies; and use the skills and tools in arts, social science and humanities to confront and redress social injustices. [(Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences); Issues involving ethics be discussed in arts, humanities and social science classes].

5. Formulate, synthesize, critically analyze and evaluate science-based inquiries/issues from evidence-based foundation; use science-based tools and skills to advance information based on quantitative analysis and reach logical and evidence-based conclusion to make reasonable judgment. (Science literacy)

GED 100  New Student Seminar
The class seeks to help entering students meet the demands of college life. It covers the broad areas of personal adjustment and educational and vocational planning. This course provides opportunities which can be readily understood and applied to everyday life. Mastering note taking, effective listening and concentration, as well as attacking difficult subjects help to increase overall academic performance. In addition, the class provides assistance with career awareness, exploration, decision-making and job preparation.

PED 120  Health and Wellness
This course explores specific topics which promote healthy pro-active lifestyles. Each topic covered includes applied skills to make good lifestyle choices. Focus topics and skills are: Exploring the various dimensions that affect healthy living; eliminating self-defeating behavior; assessing the health-related components of physical fitness; and designing and implementing a personal fitness plan.

RDG 101  College Reading
A one semester course that focuses on interpretive comprehension skills, critical thinking/reading skills, and flexibility in the selection rates of reading.

ENG 101  English 1
The course introduces students to the essentials of reading, writing, listening, analyzing, and speaking. It emphasizes the fundamental principles and practices of critical thinkingand writing, public speaking, systematic libraryresearch, analysis and synthesis of topics, organization, language, delivery, audience adaptation, reasoning, arguments and supporting materials.

ENG 102  English 2
The course introduces students to how to engage in college-level research and incorporate these skills into a final argumentative research paper. Students will practice and refine expository writing skill and compose critical reviews of different types of media. Instruction emphasizes the writing of a research paper as a process which includes, but is not limited, to learning how to use the library and how to use technological tools to amass material appropriate for a thoughtful, critical, logical, and well-substantiated written work. Prerequisite: ENG 101

ENG 107  Speech
A course designed to introduce students to the essentials of speech communication. Content emphasizes basic theoretical concepts, the development of personal and public communications skills, including public address, small-group communication and interviewing techniques. Prerequisites: ENG 101

BSPA 101  Conversational Spanish 1
The course introduces students to the study of the Spanish as well as Spanish-speaking cultures in an interdisciplinary and multicultural approach. Emphasis is placed on the conversation skills with attention to reading, writing, and listening comprehension. Students will learn how the various people speaking the language conduct their lives. The majority of the class will be spent working on speaking Spanish. Students will develop the other skills primarily through assignments. To achieve these goals, the instructors will conduct class in Spanish. The course is limited to students with little or no training skills in the language.
BSPA102 Conversational Spanish 2 (3)
This course is designed for students who have completed one semester of SPA 101. Special emphasis will be placed on oral Spanish, a comprehensive but concise review of grammatical principles, verbs and idioms while promoting the basic language skills with special emphasis on video and audio-lingual practice. The course makes use of dialogue adaptation, grammatical explorations, pattern drills, demonstrations, discussions, reading sections, personalized questions, and compositions. Prerequisite: FLS 101

HUM 201 Humanities I Music (3)
A course designed to include those disciplines that emphasize the intellectual, aesthetic, and ethical values of heritage. This course explores the various musical periods with special emphasis on the musical contributions of African Americans and teaches students how to listen critically to music of all genres.

HUM202 Humanities II Art (3)
A course that concentrates on the art, the music, the history, and the contributions of a rainbow of minority cultures that now live or have lived in America and have created art forms at the highest level. We will examine the content of art, it’s the social and political relevance, and what overall impact their art has on the American culture.

HUM 221 Humanities III World Literature I (3)
This course aims to put in proper perspective significant cultural achievement. It focuses specifically on the major literature of Western Civilization. Prerequisites: ENG 101-102.

HUM 350 Humanities IV World Religions (3)
This is a seminar designed to acquaint the student with the nature and general structure of the various religions of the world through a combination of lecture, independent reading, and the presentation of papers.

SOC 101 Introduction to Social Science (3)
This course is an introduction to the scientific study of society. Emphasis is placed on the basic principles, the distinctive subject matters, and interconnections of different disciplines in the social sciences. Also, this course discusses the relationship between the social and economic institutions which control the thinking and action of average people. The course attempts to offer methods of understanding these various forces and their ultimate influence on social and business institutions.

PSY 200 Psychology (3)
A general overview of Psychology as a social science. Topics include history of psychology, child development, maturation, aging, states of consciousness, stress and health, psychopathology, theories of personality, therapies, social psychology, and fields of application.

SOC201 Business and Society (3)
This course examines the relationships between business and the broader social, political and economic contexts within which business operates. Topics include business ethics, social responsibility of business, impact of globalization on business, impact of various government policies on business and how business influences government.

SOC 211 American Government (3)
Analysis of the structure and functioning of the federal government with some emphasis on civil rights, political parties, the federal-state relation, and state and local government.

Prerequisite: ENG 102.

HIS 229  Survey of AfricanAmerican History  (3)

A topical course in African American History with special emphasis on the cultural, scientific, social, economic, and political life and role of African Americans in the world.

MAT 101  College Algebra 1  (3)

This course builds a mathematics foundation based on critical thinking, quantitative reasoning, and problem solving with direct applications to everyday life. Topics include logic, element of numeration systems, data analysis, geometry, and mathematics of formula and theory. Emphasis will be placed on “techniques in” and “applications to” current trends and conditions in the global society such as entrepreneurship.

MAT 102  College Algebra 2  (3)

This course utilizes the functional approach to mathematics. Topics include polynomial, rational, absolute value, root, exponential and logarithmic functions and their applications to everyday life. Topics will be presented utilizing updated technology with emphasis on current trends and conditions in the global society.  Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in MAT 101 or by placement.

BIO 101  Biological Science  (3)

The course includes an introduction to life, reproduction and growth; heredity and genetics; metabolism, food cycle; energy relations; population structures and ecology; the study of systems (circulatory, excretory, digestive); conservation of resources; man and his future.

BIO 102  Biological Science  (3)

This course encompasses an overview of the entire field of animal and plant life and provides a foundation for advance studies in the biological sciences and medicine.

CHE 101  Chemical Science  (3)

The course covers the basic concept of chemistry from a forensic perspective. It is designed for liberal arts students to enhance their scientific literacy and to help them develop their ability to engage in scientific discussions and decision-making.

PSC 102  Physical Science  (3)

This course will survey the basic concepts in the physical sciences, their historical development, and the methods of scientific inquiry with direct applications to everyday life. Students who successfully complete this course will be prepared to participate in our nation’s technical and scientific decision-making.  Prerequisites: MAT 101 and MAT 102.

CIS 101  Computer Applications  (3)

This course introduces students to the features and functionality of the most widely used productivity software in the world: Microsoft Office®. Through video instruction, interactive skills demonstrations, and hands-on practice assignments, students learn to develop, edit and share Office® 2010 documents for both personal and professional use. By the end of this course, students will have developed basic proficiency in the most common tools and features of the Microsoft Office 2010 suite of applications: Word®, Excel®, PowerPoint®, and Outlook. The course also addresses e-mail, information searches, and website building.

BUS 201  Introduction to Entrepreneurship  (3)

This course is designed to help students learn how to examine the fundamentals of organizing and starting a small business. The course covers such topics as the challenges of entrepreneurship, building the business plan, and strategic planning. It also covers forms of ownership, marketing, pricing, cash flow, financial planning, putting the plan to work, ethical concerns, legal concerns, and the regulatory environment.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

Music Degree

Degree: Bachelor of Art, Music

Music Degree

The Department of Music offers one-degree program with three concentrations: Vocal Performance, Music Production, and Church Music consisting of a curriculum of applied instruction, music technology courses, music theory and history course sequences, 18 music concentration hours, and a culminating capstone senior recital or senior project.

Students who wish to become a part of the Music program should consult with the Department Head about which courses to take in conjunction with completing their General Education requirements first before seeking admission into the program. For guidance, please references the course sequence (page 98).

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Music is to provide students with an environment that fosters academic excellence, culturally enriching experiences, meaningful social engagement, opportunities to explore artistic creativity and opportunities to develop entrepreneurial skills or pathways to pursuing graduate degree study within the discipline of music or related field.

Vision Statement

The vision of the Department of Music is for our Department to produce graduates who are capable of positively transforming their environments both communally and nationally through entrepreneurial engagement, and social and civic initiatives across the global divide within the discipline of music.

Department Admissions and Exit Criteria

Admission Requirements

Students seeking admission into the Music Program must first satisfy the College’s admission and financial requirements. Then, prospective students must satisfy the Department’s entrance requirements by completing the following criteria:

- Contact the Music Chair via e-mail or telephone to arrange an interview and complete the advisement session;
- Prepare two contrasting repertoire pieces for the audition (voice or instrument); and
- Students must take the Theory Placement Test to determine theory and musicianship level.
• Students applying for Prior Learning Credit Hours may be subject to additional exams and fees and may be asked to submit a music portfolio as evidence of professional experience in a specific area.

Department Exit Requirements

Students preparing for graduation must first satisfy the College’s financial obligations; complete any and all assignments to successfully remove “Incomplete” grades; return any and all library books; take any designated scheduled testing required by the Institution; complete and submit the Application for Graduation Form (Registrar’s Office) and any fees related to the commencement activity, and attend all expected graduating senior meetings.

The Department of Music requires all graduating seniors to • Make appointment with Department Chair to conduct a Transcript Review session before March 31st of the graduating year. All Requirements must be in order including the Student File Form (See Department Chair).

• For the Bachelor of Arts degree in Music, a student must have completed a minimum of 120 credit hours (total) with a grade of “C” or above in all music requirements (73 hours); and a passing grade for all General Education courses with a minimum grade of “C” in the English Composition sequence;

• Students must earn a score of 80 or above in presenting the Senior Recital or Senior Project. See Department Chair or Advisor for Guidelines; and

• Students must take the Department Exit Exam scheduled for mid-April of the graduating year (2020). This exam is administered as an assessment tool to measure the effectiveness of the Department’s Program Educational Outcomes.

Program Objectives

The Department of Music has the following objectives:

1. To prepare students to pursue graduate study or to pursue entrepreneurial ventures in their field of study;
2. To provide students with oral and written communication skills and critical thinking skills that prepare them for graduate study or entrepreneurial ventures;
3. To expose students to culturally enrichment experiences that promote cultural and social awareness, sensitivity and understanding of a diverse society; and
4. To build their performance, creative, and research skills that prepare them to be competent musicians.

Learning Outcomes for Music Degree
Upon completion of this program, students matriculating in the Music Program will be able to demonstrate the acquired competencies:

VOCAL PERFORMANCE CONCENTRATION

- PO 1: A Vocal Performance student will demonstrate performance excellence, scholarly research or creative ability by presenting a 50-minute capstone activity (be it a senior recital or senior project) requisite of a collegiate level student as defined by the Department.

- PO 2: A student will be able to demonstrate competency in music history knowledge by researching a music topic (based upon subject matter covered over the three-semester history sequence) that surveys the historical development of a selected genre of music.

- PO 3: A student will demonstrate basic musicianship skills and competency in theoretical analysis of American popular song by analyzing a 16-bar song or realizing a 16-bar lead sheet.

- PO 4: A Music Student will be able to create and produce a 16-bar multi-sectional, multi-stave music document and MIDI audio file using the Finale Notational Software System to demonstrate music technology proficiency.

- PO 5: The music student will be able to prepare and file ten Music Industry forms that require her/him to interpret and utilize standard Music Terminology.

- PO 6: Professional Readiness: A Music Student will demonstrate professional readiness by creating a professional portfolio which includes resume and professional performance or creative credits and building a website which includes videos, interviews and other related professional documentation.

MUSIC PRODUCTION CONCENTRATION

- PO 1: A Music Production student will demonstrate Music Studio Competency by producing a 50-minute capstone activity (music production or recording project).

- PO 2: A student will be able to demonstrate competency in music history knowledge by researching a music topic (based upon subject matter covered over the three-semester history sequence) that surveys the historical development of a selected genre of music.

- PO 3: A student will demonstrate competency in theoretical analysis of American popular song by analyzing a 16-bar song or realizing a 16-bar lead sheet.

- PO 4a: The Music Production Student will be able to create and produce a multi-sectional, multi-stave music document and MIDI audio file using the Finale Notational Software System to demonstrate music technology proficiency.

- PO 4b: A Music Production Student will be able to produce and record a 30-minute sound recording for solo instrument with a chamber or combination group.
PO 5: A Music Production student will be able to prepare and file ten Music Industry forms that require her/him to interpret and utilize standard Music Terminology.

CHURCH MUSIC CONCENTRATION

PO 1: A Church Music student will demonstrate Choral literacy and competency in conducting by planning and producing a 50-minute capstone activity (choral concert or choral lecture with demonstration). Concert must include a minimum of four genres of choral music.

PO 2: A student will be able to demonstrate competency in music history knowledge by researching a music topic (based upon subject matter covered over the three-semester history sequence) that surveys the historical development of a selected genre of music.

PO 3: A student will demonstrate competency in theoretical analysis of American popular song by analyzing a 16-bar song or realizing a 16-bar lead sheet.

PO 4: The Music Student will be able to create and produce a multi-sectional, multi-stave music document and MIDI audio file using the Finale Notational Software System to demonstrate music technology proficiency.

PO 5: The music student will be able to prepare and file ten Music Industry forms that require her/him to interpret and utilize standard Music Terminology.

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

Degree: B.S.  Psychology

Introduction

Those who intend to do graduate work in psychology should broaden their preparation in mathematics, the natural sciences, philosophy, linguistics or the social sciences. A student may combine Psychology with preparation for advanced professional training, medical school, law school, or other advanced professional training. In addition, the Psychology Department will serve the College by offering General Psychology to meet the needs of the General Education Program and by offering supportive courses to students in existing departments/programs who would benefit from formal exposure to current knowledge of the principles of human behavior and mental processes.

Classic studies have revealed the ongoing demand for trained professionals in the field of Psychology (Lahey, 2008). In addition, students with majors in psychology have also entered careers in such diverse areas as computer science, banking and politics.

Purpose

The Psychology Program of study is designed to contribute to a student’s general liberal education, to enhance the student’s understanding of human behavior, to provide academic and practical preparation for entry level positions in mental health and related fields, and to provide a foundation for entry into graduate or professional schools in a variety of areas of specialization.

Mission

The mission of the Department of Psychology is to provide students with a foundation for the scientific understanding of behavior and mental processes within the structure of academic excellence and research through experiential, collaborative and discovery-based learning in a nurturing environment. As such, the Department provides a pathway for graduates to pursue advanced degrees or employment in numerous related fields.

Vision

The vision of the Department of Psychology is to produce graduates who make significant contributions to the science and practice of psychology and related fields locally, nationally, and globally.

Admission Requirements

Students seeking admission into the Psychology Program must first satisfy the College’s admission and financial requirements. Students are allowed into the Psychology Program once being accepted by the Institution but must complete the entrance criteria before being officially considered a Psychology Major:

1) Complete all General Education Courses with a grade point average of 2.0 or higher

2) Confer with the Department Chair
   a. To discuss the appropriateness of Psychology as a major in light of the student’s career goals; and
   b. To verify eligibility with respect to completion of the General Education Requirement and grade point area;

3) Maintain a cumulative grade point average of a minimum of 2.0 in all major courses, earn a grade of “B” or better in General Psychology; and

4) Meet regularly with the Department Chair to determine whether the student qualifies to be maintained as a major.

Department Exit Requirements

Students preparing for graduation must first satisfy the College’s financial obligations; complete any and all assignments to successfully remove “Incomplete” grades; return any and all library books; complete, and submit the Application for Graduation Form (Registrar’s Office) and any fees related to the commencement activity, and attend all expected graduating senior meetings.

The Department of Psychology requires all graduating seniors to

1) Make an appointment with Department Chair to conduct a Transcript Review session before March 31st of the graduating year. All Requirements must be in order including the Student File Form (See Department Chair).

2) For the Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology, a student must have completed a minimum of 120 credit hours (total) with a grade of “C” or above in all psychology required courses (72 hours); and a passing grade for all General Education courses with a minimum grade of “C” in the English Composition sequence;

3) Students must meet all the requirements for passing the Capstone courses, and

4) Students must make an appointment with the Department Chair for an Exit Interview.
Educational Outcomes for Psychology Majors

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Adapted from the American Psychological Association Guidelines for the Undergraduate Psychology Major 2.0 2013 Version Published in the American Psychologist Vol. 71 Number 2 February-March 2016.

Upon completion of the program for the Psychology Major, the students will be able to:

1. PLO 1: KNOWLEDGE: Use basic psychological terminology, concepts, and theories in psychology to explain behavior and mental processes;

2. PLO 2: SCIENTIFIC INQUIRY AND CRITICAL THINKING: Develop a comprehensive strategy for locating and using relevant scholarship (such as data basis, credible journals, etc.) to address psychological inquiry.

3. PLO 3: ETHICAL AND SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY Evaluate psychological research from the standpoint of adherence to the American Psychological Association Ethics Code

4. PLO 4: COMMUNICATION Demonstrate effective communication in constructing arguments based upon clear and concise evidence-based psychological concepts and theories; and students should be able to demonstrate effective communication skills following professional conventions in psychology appropriate to purpose and context; and

5. PLO 5: PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT Describe and execute problem-solving, research methods, and ethical principles to facilitate effective workplace solutions.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The Psychology Program has instituted the following objectives:

1. To provide students with oral and written communication skills and critical thinking skills that prepare them for graduate study;

2. To prepare students academically and experientially for employment in a variety of fields;

3. To expose students to applied psychology through internships, and cooperative educational placements;

4. To expose students to research psychology through research training in the laboratory and in the field, and
5. To expose students to state of the art computer techniques used in research and in the application of psychology.

Psychology Program Competencies

1. Psychology Program students will submit, discuss and defend a research project in Senior Seminar during the first semester of their senior year.

2. Psychology Program students will submit a portfolio of their internship experiences during the second semester of their senior year.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

ORGANIZATIONAL MANAGEMENT AND LEADERSHIP (120 hrs)

Program Description

The Bachelor of Science Degree in Organizational Management and Leadership program is an accelerated degree-completion program (18-24 months) that provides the skills and knowledge base to meet the challenges of the 21st century workplace.

Students must complete all General Education and pre-OML Courses to meet the full approval status. Total number of hours required for program completion is a minimum of 120 credit hours of "approved course work", i.e., courses as required in the curriculum.

Target Market for Job Placement

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics (2018), the employment for social and community service managers is projected to grow 10% over the next 8 years, which is faster than the national average. Companies look for candidates who can communicate well, motivate team members, improve operational efficiency, and build leadership among employees. Software developers, healthcare organizations, manufacturers, and even the government all need the skills of organizational leaders. The public and private sectors, nonprofits, and academia are all hiring qualified candidates with a bachelor's degrees in organizational leadership. A brief list of industries that are hiring these graduates include but are not limited to:

Business Consulting, Entrepreneurship, Finance and insurance, Governmental and Nonprofit Management, Technology and IT, Sales, Manufacturing and distribution, Human resources, Marketing firms, Healthcare services providers and Retailer Managers.

Objectives

The overall objectives of the Organizational Management and Leadership Program (OML) will equip students with the skills necessary to manage projects, people and plans. Through competency-base coursework, students will become more able to recognize their own strengths and weaknesses in order to lead effectively. Students will study human behavior relative to employee relations in order to improve organizational productivity and increase morale. The OML program specially focuses on:

- Leadership theory and applications
- Organizational change
• Knowledge economy leadership
• Organizational behavior
• Multiculturalism and diversity
• Decision-making and problem-solving techniques

Expected Outcomes

The intended outcomes of the OML Program are to develop the potential of students as organizational and leadership professionals, enabling them to play a more effective role in the nonprofit, for profit, and government workplace. Specifically, students will have the analytical tools to evaluate a constantly changing business environment, and the promote creativity to solve market problems, and professional efficiency in business environments. Last, students will understand the ongoing process of developing the leadership capacities necessary for strategic decision-making when faced with local and international competition.

Entrance Requirements to OML Program

Each student must apply through the Department Chairperson for admission to the Organizational Management and Leadership Program, and:

1. Must be interviewed by the OML faculty;
2. Must agree to the OML curriculum plan;
3. Must obtain and submit two (2) letters of recommendation that include a reference from a professional administrator, academic administrator, and or religious administrator.

Other – Prior Learning Assessment Credit

Students, who are accepted into Morris Brown College, may be eligible for Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) credit(s) that would enable them to fulfill some electives, interdisciplinary and/or general education courses. In addition, student must have submitted their official transcript to the College. If student does have remaining general education or electives required to earn the OML degree PLA is not applicable.

Retention Criteria for OML Program

To be retained in the Organizational Management and Leadership Program:

1. Students must maintain a cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA) of 2.0 in order to be in good standing in the program.
2. Students whose GPA falls below 2.0 in any semester will be put on academic warning and will be required to take no more than 12 semester hours for that semester.

3. Students who GPA falls below 2.0 for two consecutive semesters, will be placed on academic suspension. Registrar will notify student to withdraw from the College for one semester.

4. Class attendance may be in an ONLINE, HYBRID or in an on-ground 4-hour session once per week, per course. No student can miss more two sessions/classes per course. It is at the professor’s discretion, on appeal by the student, to give the student an opportunity to make up for any missed assignment.

5. It is compulsory that the student withdraws from the class upon accumulating two absences. No instructor may waive this requirement in fairness to other students and the integrity of the course.

Instructional Methods

Below is a listing of some of the activities students can anticipate in the MB Business Department (this information is in every syllabi/course guide):

- Writing assignments: students will analyze current issues in the field using current articles from the popular press as well as library research including electronic resources databases.
- Verbal presentations: students will present research portfolios individually. Discussions may also focus on cross-cultural and legal-ethical dilemmas as they relate to the course content.
- Simulation activities, open classroom discussion: Trends and issues will be analyzed for their ethical as well as social or legal significance. Students might role-play common situations for classmates to analyze. Current news articles may be used to generate discussion.
- Case Studies/ Brainstorming: Complex situations and scenarios will be analyzed in cooperative group settings or as homework assignments.
- Lectures: This format will include question and answer sessions to provide interactivity between students and instructor.
- Speakers: Representatives from various related fields may be invited to speak.
- Videos: Related topics will provide impetus for discussion
- Role Playing
- Memory based learning, field trips and observations
- Research based learning
- Collaborative and project-based learning
- Internships
Internships, Field Work and Practicums

Internships, field work and practicums use the following guidelines during a 15-week semester:

1. 3-credit hour internship, field work course, or practicum = approximately 10 contact hours/week or 150 – 200 hours/semester
2. 6-credit hour internship, field work course, or practicum = approximately 20 contact hours/week or 300 – 400 hours/semester
3. 12-credit hour internship, field work course, or practicum = approximately 40 contact hours/week or 600 – 750 hours/semester

Competencies

OML students will demonstrate acquired competencies of the program as follows:

1. OML students, in the first semester of their senior year, will submit and defend a strategic career plan.

2. OML students, in their final semester, will submit and defend an internship report that documents identification, analysis, and recommended solutions to organizational problems.

Exit Criteria from OML Program

1. Students must complete all OML core curriculum requirements. Transfer credits must be approved by the Department Chairperson.

2. Students must earn a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or better with no major course grade below “C.”

3. Students must complete requirements of the internship/apprenticeship required by the program prior to graduation.

4. Students must meet with their advisor who will sign that they have completed the contract successful; and then receive the signature of clearance from the Department Chairperson as meeting the requirements of the program.

5. Students must complete at least 120 credit hours of approved course work that must include the following:

Students, who are accepted into Morris Brown College, may be eligible for Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) credit(s) that would enable them to fulfill some electives, interdisciplinary and/or general education courses. In addition, student must have submitted their official transcript to the College. If student does have remaining general education or electives required to earn the OML degree PLA is not applicable. The student may receive as many as 30 credit hours as approved courses for educational or training programs completed through a corporate or professional training institution to satisfy elective or general education credits. On application/petition the relevant faculty as recommended by the Department Chairperson will evaluate the application.

BOML 211 Quantitative Analysis  (3)
This course is centered on the mathematical background necessary for an understanding of the quantitative aspects of organizational planning, problem-solving, analysis, and decision-making. The course is taught from an applied viewpoint with cases and materials that demonstrate business and organizational applications for each mathematical technique and method. The course will develop in students an understanding of quantitative applications involving linear equations, mathematics of finance and investments, differential calculus, introduction to and use of probability concepts, forecasting, transportation and assignment, network models, inventory models simulation, linear programming. Prerequisites: MAT 102 and MAT 204 (2009 catalog)

BOML 213 Principles of Accounting I  (3)
This course provides a solid conceptual and practical understanding of the basic principles of accounting. The course enables students to develop an understanding of financial accounting procedures and allow for the application of concepts related to balance sheet accounting, income determination, and financial reporting.

BOML 216 Business Computer Applications  (3)
This course provides an approach to advanced word processing concepts using state-of-the-art software programs. Included will be various software applications such as: database management, spreadsheets, accounting software, graphics elements, charts with data, research business reports with footnotes and endnotes, and a variety of other software applications. Prerequisites: BCIS 101

BOML 241 Economic Survey (Micro-Macro)  (3)
This course provides a setting for discussing the basic economic concepts and the contributions of the major economic thinkers and for evaluating significant evolutionary events that led to the contemporary economy. The course highlights human welfare and human freedom, uses both history and economic concepts to explain welfare, emphasizes the free market system and its driven indicators, and contrasts how the market participants behave in a contemporary economy.

BOML 359 Global Leadership (Elective) (3)
In this course, students investigate the leadership tasks which managers face in companies with worldwide operations. They identify the forces of global change and the strategic challenges, which they present to managers. Students also examine the leadership characteristic required to manage global operations in a changing environment.

BOML 301 Group and Organizational Behavior (3)
This course involves a study of group behavior and how group functioning affects organizational effectiveness. Emphasis is placed on decision-making and conflict resolution. Students also develop strategies for efficient and productive group management and determine which tasks are handled by groups or by individuals.

BOML 300 Adult Development and Life Assessment (3)
This course will help you to consider the activities that currently take up most of your time, and how you plan and log them. You will also be encouraged to consider the work-life balance to which you aspire, and what steps you could take to make this wish a reality. Adult Development and Life Assessment: Time Management introduces the student to adult development theory and links these concepts to life through a process of individual reflection.

BOML 302 Managing Cultural Differences (3)
This course is designed to enable students to become more competitive in their chosen career fields by developing in them an understanding of the importance of increasing global economic interdependence and the challenges of relating to people from other countries or cultures.

BOML 304 Organizational Concepts (3)
Students examine the formal and informal functions of organizations and analyze an agency or organization, based on a system’s model. Students will also analyze and solve organizational problems using a step-by-step method. This analysis will be applied to students’ work-related independent study projects.

BOML 305 Issues in Management (3)
Students will examine management control functions, strategic planning and organizational structure and design. Also examined are motivational theory and its application to individual and group functioning in work and home situations. Leadership styles related to particular circumstances are analyzed. Negotiation concepts and skills are covered through reading and class practice, with an analysis of the effect on productivity. Total Quality Management (TQM) is studied and contrasted with Management by Objective (MBO).
BOML 306  Principles of Management and Leadership  (3)
Students examine motivational theory and its application to individual and group functioning in work situations. Leadership styles related to particular circumstances are analyzed. Negotiation is studied through reading and class practice with an analysis of the effect on productivity.

BOML 307  Organizational Communication  (3)
This course investigates group behavior and how group functions affect organizational effectiveness. Emphasis is placed on decision-making and conflict resolution. Students develop strategies for efficient and productive group management and determine which tasks are handled by groups or by individual.

BOML 310  Grant and Proposal Writing (Elective)  (3)
This course will focus on grant and proposal writing covering the research and prospect identification process, foundation grants, government grants and the relational process of grant approvals. Students will be taught how to write a standard project proposal to a foundation or government entity and how/when to follow up with funders after submitting a proposal. Last, students will discover what funders are looking for in nonprofits seeking grants and how to find potential funders in this introductory course.

BOML 311  Introduction to Business Law (Elective)  (3)
This course presents students with an initial understanding of the methods and goals of the law course of study and provides an overview of the origin and development of American law. Like any introductory course, Street Law is a survey. We will touch on broad and specific legal topics to give students a better understanding of law and how it affects you in real life. We will use case studies, individual research, group discussion/debate, guest speakers and mock trials throughout the course in order to reach our goal.

BOML 312  Studies in Innovation and Entrepreneurship (Elective)  (3)
In this course students will learn the principles and methods of idea generation and development, such as design thinking, systems thinking, or creativity; develop knowledge and skills to foster and manage an organization or group culture of innovation and entrepreneurship/intrapreneurship. This course will help students gain an understanding of business frameworks and models and connect innovation and entrepreneurial initiatives to organization objectives and goals and gain fluency in how to communicate, finance, or market a new idea, product, or initiative.

BOML 313 /GML 313 Behavioral Economics and Decision Making (Elective)  (3)
Behavioral Economics is the study of psychology as it relates to the economic decision-making processes of individuals and institutions. Behavioral Economics and Decision Making will provide students with the fundamental insight into how people think—and how altering the decision-making context can make an impact on their choices. Students will learn how to design and rigorously test a “choice architecture” that can help managers make better decisions, create greater value for customers, and improve business outcomes for any company.

BOML 314 Public Relations in Business and Entrepreneurship (3)
Students will learn to identify a business opportunity, evaluate ideas and assess local economies. Students will learn to explore the risks and rewards of entrepreneurship and leverage experiments to validate concepts and refine your business strategy. This course will teach the key financial decisions entrepreneurs must make in the early stages of a startup and understand the process of raising capital and how to speak to investors.

BOML315 Society and the Workplace: Power, Diversity, and Management Communication (3)
This course is designed to enable students to become more competitive in their chosen career fields by developing in them an understanding of the importance of increasing global economic interdependence and the challenges of relating to people from other countries or cultures. (Can be substituted with BOML302)

BOML 316 Business, Government, and Society: Understanding Nonmarket Strategies (ELECTIVE) (3)
Business operates in both a market and a nonmarket environment, the latter being the space where the formal and informal rules governing market competition are set and enforced. Successful corporate strategy aligns the firm’s capabilities with the demands of both its market and nonmarket environment. This course systematically examines the political, regulatory, societal, cultural, and natural factors that shape business' nonmarket environment. Students learn how to analyze and proactively manage the nonmarket environment through integrated market and nonmarket strategies.

BOML 334 Practice of Statistics (3)
The course is designed to assist the student to use data analysis to improve decision-making accuracy and test new ideas in education, the social sciences, and business administration. Thus, for purpose of understanding, students will learn all the traditional statistics techniques of using statistics, equations and tables for problem solving; and forms the mathematical basis for research.

BOML 350 Methods of Research Analysis (3)
Problem analysis and evaluation techniques are presented. Students are shown methods for defining, researching, analyzing, and evaluating a problem in their work or vocation environment, which they have selected for a research project. Specific statistical information covered in the course includes identifying and measuring objectives, collecting data, working with significance levels, analyzing variance, and constructing questionnaires. Prerequisite: BMAT 101 and BMAT 102

BOML 351 Human Resource Administration (3)
This course is designed for the students to explore the values and perceptions of selected groups affecting social and economic life through an analysis of policies and practices of recruitment, selection, training, development, and compensation of employees. Special attention is given to Equal Opportunity and Office of Safety and Health Administration legislation through a series of case studies and simulations. Prerequisite: Department Chair Approval

BOML 352  Managerial Accounting and Finance (3)
This course includes an overview of financial tools available to the manager in decision-making, such as a study of income statements, balance sheets, cash flow budgets, changes in financial position, and ratio analysis. Emphasis is on understanding accounting and financial documents rather than upon their preparation. Prerequisites: Principles of Management and Accounting
BOML 354 Organizational Ethics (3)
Several major theories are reviewed in this course. Students are exposed to the basic tenets of morality and asked to examine personal values through readings and workplace analysis to formulate a management philosophy incorporating business ethics, government accountability, human rights, and a responsible lifestyle in the contemporary world.

BOML 355 Processes of Management (3)
This course is designed to introduce basic concepts and processes of management. The course will also include the study of legal, social, and political environment with specific emphasis on the behavior perspective in organizations.
Prerequisite: Pre-OML courses

BOML 400 Internship in Management (3)
Offered to student in the final semester, this course requires work experience with an organization, government agency, or business, institution(s) at the local and or state level; and will submit and defend an internship report that documents identification, analysis, and recommended solutions to organizational problems. The Department Chairperson may participate in the presentation.
Prerequisite: Pre-OML courses + Department Chair Approval

BOML 401 Internship in Leadership (3)
This course requires work experience with an organization, government agency, or a business or educational facility, state or private.
Prerequisite: BOML 400

BOML 402 Organizational Leadership (3)
Emphasis is placed on theoretical approaches to organizational leadership. Stress is placed on developing a practical use of skills and methods for immediate application.
Prerequisite: Pre-OML courses

BOML 403 Living in the Global Community (3)
This course is an interdisciplinary examination of issues concerning the economic, environmental and social sustainability of the global community. The aim of this course is to help students relate to their own lives and actions and those of their organization to the global context and to understand some implications of their global citizenship.
Prerequisite: Department Chair Approval

BOML 411 Strategic Planning (3)
This course introduces students to various management models and techniques and applies them to selected business cases. It stresses the concepts of strategic planning and strategic management. In-class activities and reading assignments are designed to help students think through the desired results before an activity or related series of events has begun.
NOTE: Student must be classified as a Senior (90 credits or more) to enroll.
BOML 421 Senior Research Project (3)
The students complete an independent study research project related to an identify management and or organizational problem in their employment environment. Student submits a final examination term paper; and gives an oral presentation of the background, problem, hypotheses, methodology, and research findings for evaluation by peers and instructors. The course permits the application of the mathematical tools acquired in quantitative course with emphasis on Methods of Research Analysis. The instructor monitors the progress of the independent study. The student is expected to devote at least 200 clock hours to the project.

NOTE: Student must be classified as a Senior (90 credits or more) to enroll.

Program Description
The Bachelor of Science Degree in Global Management and Applied Leadership Program (GML) is an accelerated degree-completion program (18-24 months not excluding the core courses) that provides the skills and knowledge. The program provides a strong foundation in core management principles with an emphasis on leadership development, global commerce, cross cultural communication and team-building qualitative reasoning.

The coursework will provide a strong foundation in management principles with an emphasis on leadership development in the global workplace. Students will be introduced to the constructs and practices to increase their efficiency and effectiveness in the changing roles of government, nonprofits, and for-profit companies. They will learn how organizations balance in the pursuit of profitability while considering the impact of demographics, religion, policy (both American and foreign), and environment. The power of globalization, the interdependence of national and regional market-makers, and the global economy will be studied in detail. The program will consist of developing activities such as keynote speakers from a variety of industries, internship and study abroad panels, and collaborative sessions with practitioners in the Atlanta Metro Area.

Graduates of this program are prepared to enter the corporate world, or to advance within it, as Managers, and as Business Analysts in financial services, insurance, marketing and advertising, media, healthcare, entertainment, or tourism. Many pursue careers in non-profit fields, including higher education, the arts, healthcare, research, or international causes. Others become entrepreneurs or pursue advanced degrees.

Applicants who have accumulated between 45 and 60 undergraduate transferable credits with a GPA of at least 2.0 and have a minimum of two-years work experience are eligible to apply for the program.
Business Department

Applicants with less than GPA 2.0 and 45 credits are evaluated on a case-by-case basis. The Chairperson of the Department may give Provisional approval. Students must complete all General Education and pre-GML Courses to meet the full approval status. This approval will be given in writing and be recorded as part of the Student matriculation history.

The total number of hours required for program completion is a minimum of 120 credit hours of “approved course work,” i.e., courses as required in the curriculum.

Target Market for Student Recruitment

GML students are chosen from the following categories: adult professionals with some college credit; adults seeking professional advancements; adults not younger than 23 years of age; and adults with proficiency in writing skills.

Target Market for Graduate Placement

GML graduates are prepared for challenging careers in global management and applied leadership positions in the following industries: corporate America, public service, community service, business; government, education, and entrepreneurship.

Objectives

The overall objective of the GML Program is to develop the potential of students as organizational and leadership professionals, enabling the students to play a more effective role in the American Management and Leadership System. The specific objectives are to:

1. To provide students with a thorough understanding of the organizational management theory and the market economy in a global workplace setting. Upon completion of the GML Program, the student (s) should be able to:
   - demonstrate effective leadership and cross-cultural management styles with an emphasis on the global environment;
   - exemplify leadership and management behaviors to compete in the global economy
   - demonstrate evidence of strong leadership and inter-management skills; operate effectively in global political, cultural, and religious environments;
   - make quality enhancing decisions under adverse situations; exemplify strong research skills;
   - demonstrate effective written and oral presentation skills;
   - demonstrate effective allocation and utilization of human talents within the organization;
   - exhibit strong ethics, integrity, and values in decision-making
   - demonstrate strong leadership skills in managing change within the organization; demonstrate leadership and management competency; and

2. To provide students with competencies in organizational analysis and equip them to use rigor to enable the students to formulate and analyze intergovernmental policies that effectively impact the business, social and legal environments;
Business Department

- to acquaint the student with the process of organizational and leadership growth and development;
- to equip students to respond, intentionally and effectively, to a range of global political and economic challenges.
- to build competencies and literacy to influence people from different backgrounds
- to equip students to tolerate high levels of ambiguity and show cultural adaptability and flexibility while developing programs for profitability.
- to prepare students for possible employment in private business, government services and to pursue advanced degrees.

Entrance Requirement for the GML Program

Upon admission to the College, each student must apply through the Department Chairperson for admission to the Global Management and Applied Leadership Program through the following process and documentation submission:

1. Interviewed by the GML faculty;
2. Agree to the GML curriculum plan;
3. Accumulated a minimum of 45 transferable (grade C or better) undergraduate credits with a minimum GPA of 2.0. If earned less than 45 semester hours will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis and referred to complete the General Education Core Program and pre-GML courses;
4. Demonstrated a minimum of two years in the workforce; and
5. Obtain and submit three letters of recommendation that include a reference from a professional administrator, academic administrator, and or a religious administrator.
Other – Prior Learning Assessment Credit

Students, who are accepted into Morris Brown College, may be eligible for Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) credit(s) that would enable them to fulfill some electives, interdisciplinary and/or general education courses. In addition, the student must have submitted their official transcript to the College. If the student does have remaining general education or electives required to earn the GML degree PLA is not applicable. The student may receive as many as 30 credit hours as approved courses for educational or training programs completed through a corporate or professional training institution to satisfy elective or general education credits. On application/petition, the relevant faculty as recommended by the Department Chairperson will evaluate the application.

Retention Criteria for GML Program

To be retained in the Global Management and Applied Leadership Program:

1. Students must maintain a cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA) of 2.0 in order to be in good standing in the program.

2. Students whose GPA falls below 2.0 in any semester will be put on academic warning and will be required to take no more than 12 semester hours for that semester.

3. Students whose GPA falls below 2.0 for two consecutive semesters, will be placed on academic suspension. Registrar will notify the student to withdraw from the College for one semester.

4. Class attendance, 4-hour session once per week, per course, forms the basis of the integrity of the program, and a requirement. No student must miss more one session/class per course. It is at the professor’s discretion, on appeal by the student, to allow the student an opportunity to make up for any missed assignment.

5. It is compulsory that the student withdraws from the class upon accumulating two absences. No instructor may waive this requirement in fairness to other students and the integrity of the course.
Competencies

GML students will demonstrate acquired competencies of the program as follows:

1. GML students, in the first semester of their senior year, will submit and defend a strategic career plan.

2. GML students, in their final semester, will submit and defend an internship report that documents identification, analysis, and recommended solutions to organizational problems.

Exit Criteria from GML Program

1. Students must complete all GML core curriculum requirements through successful class performance, and transfer credits approved by the Department Chairperson.

2. Students must earn a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or better with no major course grade below “C.”

3. Students must complete requirements of the internship/apprenticeship required by the program prior to graduation.

4. Students must meet with their advisor who will sign that they have completed the contract successfully, and then receive the signature of clearance from the Department Chairperson as meeting the requirements of the program.

5. Students must complete at least 120 credit hours of approved course work that must include the following:

It includes leadership assessment, leadership development, the leadership process, the contagious nature of leadership, leadership and productivity, motivation, and effective leadership styles and theories. Current readings, research, simulations, and exercises are used.

GML 211 Methods of Research Analysis (3)
In this course, students will be introduced to the basic ideas behind the quantitative and qualitative research in the social sciences. They will learn about data collection, description, analysis, and interpretation in scholastic research. Specific focus will be on qualitative research that involves iterative processes. Emphasis will be collecting data through observation and interviewing and on analyzing and interpreting the collected data in other assignments.

GML 212 Business Law (3)
Students will learn how commercial paper, real and personal property, creditors’ rights and bankruptcy, agency, business organizations, estate planning and the government regulation of businesses can be used as tools in a career of Global Management and Applied Leadership.

GML 311 Principles of Management Accounting (3)
The course is designed to examine the fundamentals and principles of management accounting to develop an understanding of management informal organizations. Special attention is paid to planning and decision-making. International management is also covered. (This is a writing-intensive course).

GML 214 Leadership Assessment (3)
The course examines leadership as an inter-personal and intra-organizational phenomenon with an emphasis on student leadership development. It includes leadership assessment, leadership development, the leadership process, the contagious nature of leadership, leadership and productivity, motivation, and effective leadership styles and theories. The course also examines international perspectives. Current readings, research, simulations, and exercises are used.

GML 215 Managing Organizational Change (3)
The course focuses on the effective management of human resources during the process of change. It emphasizes change management as a tool for survival, growth, increased productivity, and conflict management in the complex and volatile business environment of today and the future. Change in an international environment also is discussed (team intensive course).
GML 216  Project Management  (3)
As modern organizations have become more complex, they have also become more project driven. This course uses a basic project management framework in which the project lifecycle is broken into organizing, planning, monitoring and controlling the project. Students will learn the methodologies and tools necessary at each stage for managing the projects effectively in terms of time, cost, quality, risk, and resources.

GML 300  Social Environment of Business  (3)

GML 215  Managing Organizational Change  (3)
The course focuses on the effective management of human resources during the process of change. It emphasizes change management as a tool for survival, growth, increased productivity, and conflict management in the complex and volatile business environment of today and the future. Change in an international environment also is discussed (team intensive course).

GML/OML 352  Managerial Accounting and Finance
This course includes an overview of financial tools available to the manager in decision-making, such as a study of income statements, balance sheets, cash flow budgets, changes in financial position, and ratio analysis. Emphasis is on understanding accounting and financial documents rather than upon their preparation. Prerequisites: OML 211, OML 213, OML 216, OML 241, and OML 354

GML 216  Project Management  (3)
As modern organizations have become more complex, they have also become more project driven. This course uses a basic project management framework in which the project lifecycle is broken into organizing, planning, monitoring and controlling the project. Students will learn the methodologies and tools necessary at each stage for managing the projects effectively in terms of time, cost, quality, risk, and resources.
GML/OML 350  Methods of Research Analysis  (3)

In this course, students will be introduced to the basic ideas behind the quantitative and qualitative research in the social sciences. They will learn about data collection, description, analysis, and interpretation in scholastic research. Specific focus will be on qualitative research that involves iterative processes. Emphasis will be collecting data through observation and interviewing and on analyzing and interpreting the collected data in other assignments.

GML300  Social Environment of Business  (3)

The course examines the interrelationships among business, government and society and how these relationships evolve over time and shape our world. Through the use of readings, cases, and class discussions, students will examine a variety of important topics impacting the global business environment, including business power, corporate social responsibility, business ethics, regulation, multinational corporations, globalization, pollution, and environmental quality. A key focus is on the historical origins of the tensions amongst wealth, virtue, and business and society in developed and developing nations and economies.

GML/OML 311  Introduction to Business Law (Elective)  (3)

This course presents students with an initial understanding of the methods and goals of the law course of study and provides an overview of the origin and development of American law. Like any introductory course, Street Law is a survey. We will touch on broad and specific legal topics to give students a better understanding of law and how it affects you in real life. We will use case studies, individual research, group discussion / debate, guest speakers and mock trials throughout the course in order to reach our goal.

GML 312  Global Leadership & Personal Development  (3)

The course focuses on personal leadership development and how it is optimized by grounded reflection, self-knowledge, and continuous learning as we interact with others. The personal development part of this course cultivates introspective and skill-building competencies that include conceptual grounding that is based on an experiential learning focus. Group/team interactions, individual self-assessments will be used to self-evaluate while developing the students as leaders at the organizational level.

GML313  Leadership Decision-Making (Behavioral Economics)  (3)

Behavioral Economics is the study of psychology as it relates to the economic decision-making processes of individuals and institutions. Behavioral Economics and Decision Making will provide students with the fundamental insight into how people think—and how altering the decision-making context can make an impact on their choices. Students will learn how to design and rigorously test a “choice architecture” that can help leadership make better decisions, create greater value for customers, and improve business outcomes for any company.

GML315  Human Resource Management Principles  (3)
The course teaches a comprehensive overview of personnel administration and the ability to handle problems that affect personnel relationships. Topics covered are payroll, compensation and benefits, staffing, training and development, performance appraisals, organizational management, policy, and maintaining effective relationships with employees. The course will include topics, such as recruitment, selection, induction, training, performance appraisals, wage problems (including evaluation), grievances, morale, safety, fringe benefits, and turnover. Students will be exposed to the dynamics of how the human resource department and the company strategically work together to balance employee morale and return on investment. Thought-provoking questions will initiate a well-rounded learning experience of HRM and the effects on business operations.

GML318  Comparative Political Economy  (3)

The course provides an applied understanding of international business and trade, with an emphasis on competitive opportunities that are affected by politics. Specifically, traditional economic and behavioral science understanding of such diverse topics as overseas investment, the political economy of international business, and economic behavior are presented from rigorous new perspectives will be explored. Students are introduced to behavioral economics.

GML 319  Policy Analysis and the Role of the Public  (3)

In this course students will explore the role of policy in public administration, how the public influences policy, and the impact of policy on decision-making. Students will learn the stages of the public policy process and how the public’s involvement in policymaking has evolved. Develop techniques for managing and interacting with the public.

GML 320  Talent Management for Effective Leadership  (3)

In this course student will learn how the intense competition among firms in the global economy is now demanding superior performance in all aspects of the individual, group, and organizational operation and strategy. HOSPITALITY MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

The Morris Brown Hospitality Program was established in 1965 as Food Production Management Degree, which focused primarily on the procurement, production, and service of food. When the curriculum was expanded in 1973 to include the management of foodservice operations, the program was renamed Restaurant and Institutional Management. In 1983 and 1986, the program was again expanded, this time to include the management of hotels, tourism, and meetings, and conventions, respectively to reflect the changing and various needs of the hospitality industry. The department’s name was changed to Hotel, Restaurant, and Tourism Administration. In 1989 the name was shortened to Hospitality Administration (HAD).

In the Fall of 2019, the Hospitality Program was reestablished under the Morris Brown Business Department with an emphasis placed on Organizational Management and Leadership. The Bachelor of Science degree in Hospitality Management has been updated with the 21st century tools and paradigms necessary to be efficient in the operation and administration of hotels, restaurants, lodges, country clubs, and other tourist-friendly destinations. A career in hospitality management means that you are involved in every aspect of your property’s or business many moving parts. Productivity requires a grasp on finance, marketing, and managing employees to succeed. The B.S. degree in Hospitality Management will prepare students for leadership roles and successful careers in the rapidly expanding field of hospitality management and introduce students to the basic philosophies of the hospitality as one of the world’s major economic drivers.
Designed For

- Hospitality professionals working in every function of their organization
- Professionals looking to move into a hospitality management position
- Any hospitality professionals who are responsible for the financial performance of their organization
- For persons looking to open a hotel or restaurant, plan events for a living or manage a travel agency.

After graduation students are expected to have entry level managerial positions based on the knowledge, skills, and applied experience they accumulate in the degree program. Business functions, such as revenue management, sales and marketing, and human resource management in various segments within the hospitality and tourism industry, including hotels, restaurants, theme parks, airlines, event management, wedding planning, casinos, country clubs, cruises, travel agencies, destination marketing, and real estate can all be considered.

Program Objectives

- Demonstrate personal and professional standards for ethical decision-making and social behavior
- Demonstrate self-efficacy, leadership, resourcefulness, creativity, and the ability to recognize new opportunities.
- Demonstrate the ability to integrate concepts and theories across functional business domains (e.g. Finance, Marketing, Human Resources, Operations, etc.)
- Apply the basic principles of analytical thinking and problem solving when examining hospitality management issues
- Demonstrate the knowledge, skills, and attitudes to function effectively in a diverse and global organizational environment
- Demonstrate the ability to read, listen, and clearly express themselves using written, oral, visual, and quantitative methods to communicate effectively with superiors, coworkers, customers, and members of the community

Specific Outcomes

Students who successfully complete the Hospitality Management Certification will be able to:

- Describe the career opportunities and future industry growth forecasts as they relate to the different segments of the Hospitality Industry.
- Implement strategies to effectively manage and improve performance in the hospitality industry, based on operational theory and procedures.
- Analyze hospitality operation processes and attributes and the legal implication of proper or improper management.

Instructional Methods
Instructional Methods are ONLINE, HYBRID, AND ON GROUND: Our online classes are facilitated through the Moodle and Populi Platforms. The Business Department offers a Hybrid model, which is a mix of on-ground and online learning (Google hangouts is also used with this model), and a traditional on-ground experience for the students in their Hospitality Management Program.

Below is a listing of some of the activity’s students can anticipate in the Business Department (this information is in every syllabus/course guide):

- Writing assignments: students will analyze current issues in the field using current articles from the popular press as well as library research including electronic resources databases.
- Verbal presentations: students will present research portfolios individually. Discussions may also focus on cross-cultural and legal-ethical dilemmas as they relate to the course content.
- Simulation activities, open classroom discussion: Trends and issues will be analyzed for their ethical as well as social or legal significance. Students might role-play common situations for classmates to analyze. Current news articles may be used to generate discussion.
- Case Studies/ Brainstorming: Complex situations and scenarios will be analyzed in cooperative group settings or as homework assignments.
- Lectures: This format will include question and answer sessions to provide interactivity between students and instructor.
- Speakers: Representatives from various related fields may be invited to speak.
- Videos: Related topics will provide impetus for discussion
- Role Playing
- Memory based learning, field trips and observations
- Research based learning
- Collaborative and project-based learning
- Internships
- Capstone and Internships

Students will be able to apply the knowledge they gain by participating in capstone projects, such as creating new business ideas, developing business plans, and case study writing, in advanced courses as well as by engaging in their own or faculty-led research projects. Students will learn to evaluate the opportunities and threats in concurrent or anticipated trends in the external environment and create the best ideas or solutions in a given situation.

Internships and faculty-led projects in the hospitality and tourism fields include customer interaction with service employees, the role of technology in the service encounter, consumer behavior in sustainable food consumption, social innovation, and tourism marketing led by destination marketing organizations may also be available to Seniors fulfilling all the prerequisites

Admission to the Program
Upon admission to the College, each student must apply through the Department Chairperson for admission to the B.S. in Hospitality Management Program through the following process and documentation submission:

1. Interviewed by the faculty;
2. Agree to the curriculum plan;
3. Obtain and submit three letters of recommendation that include a reference from a professional administrator, academic administrator, and or a religious administrator.

Retention Criteria for HM Program

To be retained in the B.S. in Hospitality Management Program:

1. Students must maintain a cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA) of 2.0 in order to be in good standing in the program.
2. Students whose GPA falls below 2.0 in any semester will be put on academic warning and will be required to take no more than 12 semester hours for that semester.
3. Students whose GPA falls below 2.0 for two consecutive semesters, will be placed on academic suspension. Registrar will notify the student to withdraw from the College for one semester.
4. Class attendance, 4-hour session once per week, per course, forms the basis of the integrity of the program, and a requirement. No student can miss more than one session/class per course. It is at the professor’s discretion, on appeal by the student, to allow the student an opportunity to make up for any missed assignment (authorized excuses include death in the family, illness, or life event and must be supported by documentation as stated in the College’s Institutional Policy. Make up assignments may be in the form of online class assignments, tutorials, additional research, field excursions or a private session delivered by the instructor all equivalent to the 4-hour class).
5. It is highly recommended that the student withdraws from a core course when the grade point average falls below “C” before midterm. Two unexcused absences may result in a student losing a letter grade.

Competencies

Hospitality Management students will demonstrate acquired competencies of the program as follows:

1. Students, in the first semester of their senior year, will submit and defend a strategic career plan.
2. Students, in their final semester, will submit and defend an internship report that documents identification, analysis, and recommended solutions to organizational problems.
Exit Criteria from HM Program

1. Students must complete all GML core curriculum requirements through successful class performance, and transfer credits approved by the Department Chairperson.
2. Students must earn a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or better with no major course grade below "C."
3. Students must complete requirements of the internship/apprenticeship required by the program prior to graduation.
4. Students must meet with their advisor who will sign that they have completed the contract successfully, and then receive the signature of clearance from the Department Chairperson as meeting the requirements of the program.
5. Students must complete at least 120 credit hours of approved course work that must include the following.

BUS-HM 212L  Food Selection and Preparation LAB  (1)
BOML 213  Principles of Accounting  (3)
These courses give a solid conceptual and practical understanding of the basic principles of accounting. The courses will develop in students an understanding of financial accounting procedures and allow for the application of concepts related to balance sheet accounting, income determination, and financial reporting.

BUS-HM 215  Labor Relations  (3)
This course explores labor relations within organizations and the processes used to clarify and manage relationships with employees, specifically in unionized environments. Emphasis is on assessing how union, governmental and workforce policies, practices, history and functions relating to labor management in the public and private sectors affect business and human resource management.

BOML 216  Business Computer Applications  (3)
This course provides an approach to advanced word processing concepts using state-of-the-art software programs. Included will be various software applications such as: database management, spreadsheets, accounting software, graphics elements, charts with data, research business reports with footnotes and endnotes, and a variety of other software applications.

BUS-HM 230  Leading a Team  (3)
Students learn how to build a team, improve teamwork and collaborations, and sustain team performance through continuous learning and improvement. Best practices for composing a team and aligning individual and team goals will be addressed. Establishing roles, building structures, and managing decision making to impact team performance will be addressed. Team processes, such as conflict resolution and building trust, will be analyzed and applied.

BOML 241  Economic Survey (Micro-Macro)  (3)
This course provides a setting for discussing the basic economic concepts and the contributions of the major economic thinkers and for evaluating significant evolutionary events that led to the contemporary economy. The course highlights human welfare and human freedom, uses both history and economic concepts to explain welfare, emphasizes the free market system and its driven indicators, and contrasts how the market participants behave in a contemporary economy. Prerequisite: ENG 101 and ENG 102

BOML 304  Organizational Concepts  (3)
Students examine the formal and informal functions of organizations and analyze an agency or organization, based on a system’s model. Students will also analyze and solve organizational problems using a step-by-step method. This analysis will be applied to students’ work-related independent study projects.

BUS-HM 305  Quality Food and Restaurant Sanitation  (3)
This course examines the basic principles of hygiene and the application of these principles to food service operations. Safety elements in full-service planning, description of maintenance, operation of appropriate full-service equipment, and OSHA regulations... are included. Emphasis is placed on supervisor responsibilities and maintaining high sanitation and safety standards. Discourse examines the basic principles of hygiene and the application of these principles to food service operations. Safety elements in full-service planning, description of maintenance, operation of appropriate full-service equipment, and OSHA regulations are included. Emphasis is placed on the supervisor's responsibilities and maintaining high sanitation and safety standards.

Note: Students have the option to apply for The Quality Food and Restaurant Certification with the National Restaurant Association after taking this prep course.

BUS-HM 306  H & M Cost Control  (3)
In the hospitality industry, the term “cost control” is extremely significant, as it refers to the need to control all items of income and expense concerned with the function of the unit. This course will involve the student with the daily activities of a facility and an in-depth understanding of the control that managers must exercise over revenue and expenses incurred at food and lodging facilities. This course will also stress the fundamental principles of purchasing techniques with emphasis on product information useful in making purchases for hospitality operations.

BOML 307  Organizational Communication  (3)
This course investigates group behavior and how group functions affect organizational effectiveness. Emphasis is placed on decision-making and conflict resolution. Students develop strategies for efficient and productive group management and determine which tasks are handled by groups or by individual.

BUS-HM 308  Global Hospitality Management (E)  (3)
Globally, 1 in 11 jobs are in the hospitality industry, with predictions for continued job growth. Hospitality careers are often stereotyped as low-wage and entry-level with little opportunity for advancement, but with constant innovation, opportunities for talented individuals are vast, and growing. Students will explore the many wide-ranging career opportunities in hospitality and hotel management, gain career advice and stories from international industry experts, learn to use an analysis tool to evaluate international competitors and make strategic decisions, explore international distribution channels and pricing strategies, and learn how to select smart, talented employees.

BUS-HM 310  Managing the Customer Experience  (3)

7. BOML 314 Public Relations in Business and Entrepreneurship (3)
8. OML 202 Grant and Proposal Writing (3)

Course Descriptions

GML 313/OML 313 Behavioral Economics and Decision Making (3)
Behavioral Economics is the study of psychology as it relates to the economic decision-making processes of individuals and institutions. Behavioral Economics and Decision Making will provide students with the fundamental insight into how people think—and how altering the decision-making context can make an impact on their choices. Students will learn how to design and rigorously test a “choice architecture” that can help managers make better decisions, create greater value for customers, and improve business outcomes for any company.

GML 425 Leading and Managing the Global & Regional Business Environment II (3)
The second part of this course deals with the Regional Business Environment. The course begins with a brief geographical, demographic, and cultural overview of the region, and develops tools for analysis useful in assessing the global business environment.

BOML 315 Society and the Workplace: Power, Diversity, and Management Communication (3)
This course is designed to enable students to become more competitive in their chosen career fields by developing in them an understanding of the importance of increasing global economic interdependence and the challenges of relating to people from other countries or cultures. (Can be substituted with BOML302)

BOML 310 Grant and Proposal Writing (3)
This course will focus on grant and proposal writing covering the research and prospect identification process, foundation grants, government grants and the relational process of grant approvals. Students will be taught how to write a standard project proposal to a foundation or government entity and how/when to follow up with funders after submitting a proposal. Last, student will discover what funders are looking for in nonprofits seeking grants and how to find potential funders in this introductory course.
BOML 312 Studies in Innovation and Entrepreneurship (3)
In this course student will learn the principles and methods of idea generation and development, such as design thinking, systems thinking, or creativity; develop knowledge and skills to foster and manage an organization or group culture of innovation and entrepreneurship/intrapreneurship. This course will help students gain an understanding of business frameworks and models and connect innovation and entrepreneurial initiatives to organization objectives and goals and gain fluency in how to communicate, finance, or market a new idea, product, or initiative.

BOML 314 Public Relations in Business and Entrepreneurship (3)
Students will learn to identify a business opportunity, evaluate ideas, and assess local economies. Students will learn to explore the risks and rewards of entrepreneurship and leverage experiments to validate concepts and refine your business strategy. This course will teach the key financial decisions entrepreneurs must make in the early stages of a startup and understand the process of raising capital and how to speak to investors.

BOML 316 Business, Government, and Society: Understanding Nonmarket Strategies (3)
Business operates in both a market and a nonmarket environment, the latter being the space where the formal and informal rules governing market competition are set and enforced. Successful corporate strategy aligns the firm’s capabilities with the demands of both its market and nonmarket environment. This course systematically examines the political, regulatory, societal, cultural, and natural factors that shape business’ nonmarket environment. Students learn how to analyze and proactively manage the nonmarket environment through integrated market and nonmarket strategies.
